The Committee on Labor and Public Employees reported through REP. SANCHEZ, E. of the 24th Dist., Chairperson of the Committee on the part of the House, that the bill ought to pass.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Assembly convened:

1 Section 1. Subdivision (3) of subsection (a) of section 31-236 of the 2 general statutes is repealed and the following is substituted in lieu
3 thereof (Effective October 1, 2025):

4 (3) During any week in which the administrator finds that the
5 individual's total or partial unemployment is due to the existence of a
6 labor dispute other than a lockout at the factory, establishment or other
7 premises at which the individual is or has been employed, [provided]
8 except that the provisions of this subsection do not apply if it is shown
9 to the satisfaction of the administrator that: (A) For a labor dispute that 10 begins on or after December 14, 2026, such labor dispute has been
11 continuous for fourteen days since the commencement of such labor
12 dispute; (B) (i) the individual is not participating in or financing or 13 directly interested in the labor dispute that caused the unemployment,

14 and [(B)] (ii) the individual does not belong to a trade, class or

20 whether or not such action is to obtain for the employer more
21 advantageous terms when an employer (i) fails to provide employment
22 to its employees with whom the employer is engaged in a labor dispute, 23 either by physically closing its plant or informing its employees that
24 there will be no work until the labor dispute has terminated, or (ii)

Explanation

The bill, which makes striking workers eligible for unemployment benefits after they have been on strike for 14 consecutive days, results in a potential cost and potential revenue gain to the Unemployment Insurance Trust Fund, starting in FY 27. In addition, the bill results in a one-time cost of $394,000 to the General Fund ($195,000 in FY 26 and $199,000 in FY 27).

To the extent any striking workers become eligible for unemployment benefits as a result of the bill, this would result in a cost to the trust fund. Subsequent increases in experience ratings by employers would result in increased tax revenue to the trust fund on a lagged basis. The amounts are dependent on striking workers' benefits and affected employers' experience ratings.

Additionally, the bill would require the Labor Department to make state-specific technology changes to ReEmployCT, the unemployment insurance administration system, which results in a cost of $195,000 in FY 26 and $199,000 in FY 27 ($394,000 in total).

The Out Years

The annualized ongoing fiscal impact identified above for the trust fund would continue into the future subject to the number of workers and employers affected. There are no fiscal impacts to the General Fund beyond FY 27.

OLR Bill AnalysisHB 6904*AN ACT CONCERNING UNEMPLOYMENT BENEFITS FOR STRIKING WORKERS.*SUMMARY

For labor disputes that start on or after December 14, 2026, this bill generally makes striking workers eligible for unemployment benefits after they have been on strike for 14 consecutive days. Current law generally disqualifies claimants for benefits during any week in which their unemployment is due to a labor dispute. The bill lifts this disqualification once the labor dispute has been continuous for 14 days.

Existing law also allows claimants to qualify for benefits during a labor dispute, with no waiting period, if the (1) unemployment is due to a lockout (e.g., the employer closed the employment premises) or (2) claimant is not participating in the dispute and does not belong to a trade, class, or organization of workers participating in, financing, or directly interested in the dispute (e.g., non-union employees at a business temporarily closed by a strike).
