29 activities but that is treated by a local or regional board of education as 30 constituting such a limitation, (B) has a physical or mental impairment 31 that substantially limits major life activities only as a result of the 32 attitudes of others toward such impairment, or (C) has none of the 33 impairments described in subdivision (4) of this subsection but is 34 treated by a local or regional board of education as having such an 35 impairment.

36 (8) "Qualified student with a disability" means, with respect to public 37 preschool, elementary, secondary or adult educational services, a 38 student with a disability (A) of an age during which students who are 39 not disabled are provided such services, (B) of any age during which it 40 is mandatory under state law to provide such services to students with 41 a disability, or (C) to whom the state is required to provide a free 42 appropriate public education under Section 612 of the Individuals with 43 Disabilities Education Act, 20 USC 1419, as amended from time to time.

44 (9) "Disability" means any condition or characteristic that renders a 45 student a student with a disability.

46 (b) No qualified student with a disability shall, solely by reason of 47 such qualified student's disability, be excluded from the participation 48 in, be denied the benefits of or be subjected to discrimination under any 49 program or activity provided by a local or regional board of education.
50 The State Board of Education may adopt regulations, in accordance with 51 the provisions of chapter 54 of the general statutes, as may be necessary 52 to carry out the provisions of this section and section 2 of this act.

53 (c) (1) No qualified student with a disability shall, on the basis of 54 disability, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of 55 or otherwise be subjected to discrimination under any program or 56 activity.

57 (2) (A) A local or regional board of education, in providing any aid, 58 benefit or service, may not, directly or through contractual, licensing or 59 other arrangements, on the basis of disability:

60 (i) Deny a qualified student with a disability the opportunity to 61 participate in or benefit from the aid, benefit or service;

62 (ii) Afford a qualified student with a disability an opportunity to 63 participate in or benefit from the aid, benefit or service that is not equal 64 to that afforded to students who do not have a disability;

65 (iii) Provide a qualified student with a disability with an aid, benefit 66 or service that is not as effective as that provided to students who do not 67 have a disability;

68 (iv) Provide different or separate aid, benefits or services to qualified 69 students with a disability or to any class of qualified students with a 70 disability unless such action is necessary to provide qualified students 71 with a disability with aid, benefits or services that are as effective as 72 those provided to students who do not have a disability;

73 (v) Aid or perpetuate discrimination against a qualified student with 74 a disability by providing significant assistance to an agency,

75 organization or person that discriminates on the basis of disability in 76 providing any aid, benefit or service to beneficiaries of the program or 77 activity; or

78 (vi) Otherwise limit a qualified student with a disability in the 79 enjoyment of any right, privilege, advantage or opportunity enjoyed by 80 students who do not have a disability receiving an aid, benefit or service.

81 (B) For purposes of this section and section 2 of this act, aids, benefits 82 and services, to be equally effective, are not required to produce the 83 identical result or level of achievement for qualified students with a 84 disability and students who do not have a disability, but shall afford 85 qualified students with a disability equal opportunity to obtain the same 86 result, to gain the same benefit or to reach the same level of achievement, 87 in the most integrated setting appropriate to the needs of qualified 88 students with a disability.

89 (C) Despite the existence of separate or different aid, benefits or 90 services provided in accordance with this section and section 2 of this 91 act, a local or regional board of education may not deny a qualified 92 student with a disability the opportunity to participate in such aid, 93 benefits or services that are not separate or different.

94 (D) A local or regional board of education may not, directly or 95 through contractual or other arrangements, utilize criteria or methods 96 of administration that (i) have the effect of subjecting qualified students 97 with a disability to discrimination on the basis of disability, (ii) have the 98 purpose or effect of defeating or substantially impairing 99 accomplishment of the objectives of the board's program or activity with 100 respect to qualified students with a disability, or (iii) perpetuate the 101 discrimination of another board of education if both boards are subject 102 to common administrative control.

103 (E) In determining the site or location of a facility, a local or regional 104 board of education may not select a site that (i) has the effect of 105 excluding qualified students with a disability from, denying them the 106 benefits of or otherwise subjecting them to discrimination under any 107 program or activity, or (ii) has the purpose or effect of defeating or 108 substantially impairing the accomplishment of the objectives of the 109 program or activity with respect to qualified students with a disability.

110 (3) The exclusion of students who do not have a disability from aid, 111 benefits or services limited by the Americans with Disabilities Act, 42
112 USC 12101 et seq., the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, 20 113 USC 1400 et seq., as amended from time to time, or state law to qualified 114 students with a disability or the exclusion of a specific class of qualified 115 students with a disability from aid, benefits or services limited by said 116 Americans with Disabilities Act, Individuals with Disabilities Education 117 Act or state law to a different class of qualified students with a disability 118 is not prohibited by this section or section 2 of this act.

119 (d) A local or regional board of education shall submit an annual 120 assurance, on a form specified by the Commissioner of Education, that 121 the programs or activities of such board will be operated in compliance 122 with this section and section 2 of this act.

123 (e) (1) (A) If the Commissioner of Education finds that a local or 124 regional board of education has discriminated against students on the 125 basis of disability in violation of this section or section 2 of this act, such 126 board shall take such remedial action as the commissioner deems 127 necessary to overcome the effects of the discrimination.

128 (B) Where a local or regional board of education is found to have 129 discriminated against students on the basis of disability in violation of 130 this section or section 2 of this act, and where another board of education 131 exercises control over the board of education that has discriminated, the 132 commissioner, where appropriate, may require either or both boards to 133 take remedial action.

134 (C) The commissioner may, where necessary to overcome the effects 135 of discrimination in violation of this section or section 2 of this act, 136 require a local or regional board of education to take remedial action (i) 137 with respect to qualified students with a disability who are no longer 138 participants in such board's program or activity but who were

139 participants in the program or activity when such discrimination 140 occurred, or (ii) with respect to qualified students with a disability who 141 would have been participants in the program or activity had the 142 discrimination not occurred.

143 (2) A local or regional board of education may take steps, in addition 144 to any action that is required by this section, to overcome the effects of 145 conditions that resulted in limited participation in such board's program 146 or activity by qualified students with a disability.

147 (f) (1) Each local and regional board of education shall designate at 148 least one person to coordinate such board's efforts to comply with the 149 provisions of this section and section 2 of this act.

150 (2) Each local and regional board of education shall adopt grievance 151 procedures that incorporate appropriate due process standards and that 152 provide for the prompt and equitable resolution of complaints alleging 153 any action prohibited by this section or section 2 of this act.

154 (g) A local or regional board of education shall take appropriate 155 initial and continuing steps to notify the parents and guardians of 156 students enrolled in a school under the jurisdiction of such board that it 157 does not discriminate on the basis of disability in violation of this section 158 or section 2 of this act. The notification shall state that the board does 159 not discriminate in admission or access to, or treatment in, its program 160 or activity. The notification shall also include an identification of the 161 responsible employee designated pursuant to subdivision (1) of 162 subsection (f) of this section. Methods of notification may include the 163 posting of such information on the Internet web site of the board and in 164 all student handbooks and parent handbooks or manuals.

165 (h) The obligation to comply with this section or section 2 of this act 166 is not obviated or alleviated by the existence of any other state or local 167 law or other requirement that, on the basis of disability, imposes 168 prohibitions or limits upon the eligibility of qualified students with a 169 disability to receive services.

170 Sec. 2. (NEW) (Effective from passage) (a) The provisions of this section 171 and section 1 of this act apply to preschool, elementary, secondary and 172 adult education programs or activities provided or offered by a local or 173 regional board of education.

174 (b) A local or regional board of education that operates a program or 175 activity shall annually (1) undertake to identify and locate every 176 qualified student with a disability residing in such board's jurisdiction 177 who is not receiving a public education, and (2) take appropriate steps 178 to notify such qualified students with a disability and their parents or 179 guardians of such board's duty under this section.

180 (c) (1) A local or regional board of education that operates a program 181 or activity shall provide a free appropriate public education to each 182 qualified student with a disability who is in such board's jurisdiction, 183 regardless of the nature or severity of the student's disability.

184 (2) (A) For the purpose of this section, the provision of an appropriate 185 education is the provision of regular or special education and related 186 aids and services that (i) are designed to meet individual educational 187 needs of qualified students with a disability as adequately as the needs 188 of students who do not have a disability are met, and (ii) are based upon 189 adherence to procedures that satisfy the requirements of subsections (d) 190 to (f), inclusive, of this section.

191 (B) Implementation of an individualized education program
192 developed in accordance with the Individuals with Disabilities 193 Education Act, 20 USC 1419, as amended from time to time, and sections 194 10-76a to 10-76g, inclusive, of the general statutes, is one means of 195 meeting the standard established in subparagraph (A) of this 196 subdivision.

197 (C) A local or regional board of education may place a qualified 198 student with a disability or refer such qualified student with a disability 199 for aid, benefits or services other than those that it operates or provides 200 as its means of carrying out the requirements of this section, provided 201 such board remains responsible for ensuring that the requirements of 202 this section are met with respect to any qualified student with a 203 disability so placed or referred.

204 (3) (A) For the purpose of this subsection, the provision of a free 205 education is the provision of educational and related services without 206 cost to the qualified student with a disability or to the parents or 207 guardian of such qualified student with a disability, except for those fees 208 that are imposed on students who do not have a disability or their 209 parents or guardian. It may consist either of the provision of free 210 services or, if a local or regional board of education places a qualified 211 student with a disability or refers such qualified student with a 212 disability for aid, benefits or services not operated or provided by such 213 board as its means of carrying out the requirements of this section, of 214 payment for the costs of the aid, benefits or services. Funds available 215 from any public or private agency may be used to meet the requirements 216 of this section. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to relieve 217 an insurer or similar third party from an otherwise valid obligation to 218 provide or pay for services provided to a qualified student with a 219 disability.

220 (B) If a local or regional board of education places or refers a qualified 221 student with a disability for aid, benefits or services not operated or 222 provided by such board as its means of carrying out the requirements 223 of this section, such board shall ensure that adequate transportation to 224 and from the aid, benefits or services is provided at no greater cost than 225 would be incurred by such qualified student with a disability or the 226 parents or guardian of such qualified student with a disability if such 227 qualified student with a disability were placed in the aid, benefits or 228 services operated by such board of education.

229 (C) If a public or private residential placement is necessary to provide 230 a free appropriate public education to a qualified student with a 231 disability because of such qualified student's disability, the placement, 232 including nonmedical care and room and board, shall be provided at no 233 cost to such qualified student with a disability or the parents or 234 guardian of such qualified student with a disability.

235 (D) If a local or regional board of education has made available, in 236 conformance with the requirements of this subsection and subsection 237 (d) of this section, a free appropriate public education to a qualified 238 student with a disability, and the parents or guardian of such qualified 239 student with a disability choose to place such qualified student with a 240 disability in a private school, such board is not required to pay for such 241 qualified student's education in the private school. Disagreements 242 between a parent or guardian and a local or regional board of education 243 regarding whether such board has made a free appropriate public 244 education available or otherwise regarding the question of financial 245 responsibility are subject to the due process procedures of subsection (f) 246 of this section.

247 (4) A local or regional board of education may not exclude any 248 qualified student with a disability from a public elementary or 249 secondary education.

250 (d) (1) A local or regional board of education to which this section 251 applies shall educate, or shall provide for the education of, each 252 qualified student with a disability in its jurisdiction with students who 253 do not have a disability to the maximum extent appropriate to the needs 254 of the qualified student with a disability. A local or regional board of 255 education shall place a qualified student with a disability in the regular 256 educational environment operated by such board unless it is 257 demonstrated by such board that the education of the qualified student 258 with a disability in the regular environment with the use of 259 supplementary aids and services cannot be achieved satisfactorily.
260 Whenever a local or regional board of education places a qualified 261 student with a disability in a setting other than the regular educational 262 environment pursuant to this subsection, it shall take into account the 263 proximity of the alternate setting to the home of such qualified student 264 with a disability.

265 (2) In providing or arranging for the provision of nonacademic and 266 extracurricular services and activities, including meals, recess periods 267 and the services and activities set forth in subparagraph (B) of 268 subdivision (1) of subsection (g) of this section, a local or regional board 269 of education shall ensure that qualified students with a disability 270 participate with students who do not have a disability in such activities 271 and services to the maximum extent appropriate to the needs of the 272 qualified student with a disability in question.

273 (3) If a local or regional board of education, in compliance with 274 subdivision (1) of this subsection, operates a facility that is identifiable 275 as being for qualified students with a disability, such board shall ensure 276 that the facility and the services and activities provided in the facility 277 are comparable to the other facilities, services and activities of such 278 board.

279 (e) (1) A local or regional board of education that operates a public 280 elementary or secondary education program or activity shall conduct an 281 evaluation in accordance with the requirements of subdivision (2) of this 282 subsection of any student who, because of disability, needs or is 283 believed to need special education or related services before taking any 284 action with respect to the initial placement of the student in regular or 285 special education and any subsequent significant change in placement.

286 (2) A local or regional board of education to which this section applies 287 shall establish standards and procedures for the evaluation and 288 placement of students who, because of disability, need or are believed 289 to need special education or related services that ensure that:

290 (A) Tests and other evaluation materials have been validated for the 291 specific purpose for which they are used and are administered by 292 trained personnel in conformance with the instructions provided by 293 their producer;

294 (B) Tests and other evaluation materials include those tailored to 295 assess specific areas of educational need and not merely those that are 296 designed to provide a single general intelligence quotient; and 297 (C) Tests are selected and administered so as best to ensure that, 298 when a test is administered to a student with impaired sensory, manual

299 or speaking skills, the test results accurately reflect the student's 300 aptitude or achievement level or whatever other factor the test purports 301 to measure, rather than reflecting the student's impaired sensory, 302 manual or speaking skills, except where such skills are the factors that 303 the test purports to measure.

304 (3) In interpreting evaluation data and in making placement 305 decisions, a local or regional board of education shall (A) draw upon 306 information from a variety of sources, including aptitude and 307 achievement tests, teacher recommendations, physical condition, social 308 or cultural background and adaptive behavior, (B) establish procedures 309 to ensure that information obtained from all such sources is documented 310 and carefully considered, (C) ensure that the placement decision is made 311 by a group of persons, including persons knowledgeable about the 312 student, the meaning of the evaluation data and the placement options, 313 and (D) ensure that the placement decision is made in conformity with 314 subsection (d) of this section.

315 (4) A local or regional board of education shall establish procedures, 316 in accordance with subdivision (2) of this subsection, for periodic 317 reevaluation of students who have been provided special education and 318 related services, which may include, but are not limited to, a 319 reevaluation procedure consistent with the Individuals with Disabilities 320 Education Act, 20 USC 1419, as amended from time to time.

321 (f) A local or regional board of education that operates a public 322 elementary or secondary education program or activity shall establish 323 and implement, with respect to actions regarding the identification, 324 evaluation or educational placement of students who, because of 325 disability, need or are believed to need special instruction or related 326 services, a system of procedural safeguards that includes notice, an 327 opportunity for the parents or guardian of the student to examine 328 relevant records, an impartial hearing with opportunity for 329 participation by such student's parents or guardian and representation 330 by counsel and a review procedure, which may include, but are not 331 limited to, compliance with the procedural safeguards of the

332 Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, 20 USC 1419, as amended 333 from time to time.

334 (g) (1) (A) A local or regional board of education shall provide 335 nonacademic and extracurricular services and activities in such manner 336 as is necessary to afford qualified students with a disability an equal 337 opportunity for participation in such services and activities.

338 (B) Nonacademic and extracurricular services and activities may 339 include counseling services, physical recreational athletics, 340 transportation, health services, recreational activities, special interest 341 groups or clubs sponsored by the local or regional board of education, 342 referrals to agencies that provide assistance to qualified students with a 343 disability and employment of qualified students with a disability, 344 including both employment by such board and assistance in making 345 available outside employment.

346 (2) A local or regional board of education that provides personal, 347 academic or vocational counseling, guidance or placement services to 348 its students shall provide such services without discrimination on the 349 basis of disability. Such board shall ensure that qualified students with 350 a disability are not counseled toward more restrictive career objectives 351 than are students who do not have a disability with similar interests and 352 abilities.

353 (3) (A) In providing physical education courses and athletics and 354 similar aid, benefits or services to any of its students, a local or regional 355 board of education may not discriminate on the basis of disability. A 356 local or regional board of education that offers physical education 357 courses or that operates or sponsors interscholastic, club or intramural 358 athletics shall provide to qualified students with a disability an equal 359 opportunity for participation.

360 (B) A local or regional board of education may offer to qualified 361 students with a disability physical education and athletic activities that 362 are separate or different from those offered to students who do not have 363 a disability only if separation or differentiation is consistent with the 364 requirements of subsection (d) of this section and only if no qualified 365 student with a disability is denied the opportunity to compete for teams 366 or participate in courses that are not separate or different.

367 (h) A local or regional board of education that provides preschool 368 education or child care services, as described in section 19a-77 of the 369 general statutes, or adult education may not, on the basis of disability, 370 exclude qualified students with a disability and shall take into account 371 the needs of such qualified students with a disability in determining the 372 aid, benefits or services to be provided.

This act shall take effect as follows and shall amend the following sections:

The following Fiscal Impact Statement and Bill Analysis are prepared for the benefit of the members of the General Assembly, solely for purposes of information, summarization and explanation and do not represent the intent of the General Assembly or either chamber thereof for any purpose. In general, fiscal impacts are based upon a variety of informational sources, including the analyst's professional knowledge. Whenever applicable, agency data is consulted as part of the analysis, however final products do not necessarily reflect an assessment from any specific department.

OFA Fiscal Note

State Impact:

Agency Affected	Fund-Effect	FY 26 $	FY 27 $
Education, Dept.	GF - Cost	131,000	131,000
State Comptroller - Fringe Benefits ¹	GF - Cost	53,400	53,400

Note: GF=General Fund

Municipal Impact: None

Explanation

The bill results in a cost annually to the General Fund, primarily in the State Department of Education (SDE), of $184,400 beginning in FY 26. It conforms state statute with federal law regarding legal protections for students with disabilities and allows SDE to enforce those protections.

It is anticipated SDE will have to hire one full-time Education Consultant (annual salary of $131,000 and $53,400 in corresponding fringe benefits) to pursue and investigate allegations of noncompliance. Additional staffing costs may be necessary depending on the volume of complaints and federal developments.

The bill does not have a fiscal impact for local and regional school districts as they must already meet the bill's requirements under federal law (section 504).

¹The fringe benefit costs for most state employees are budgeted centrally in accounts administered by the Comptroller. The estimated active employee fringe benefit cost associated with most personnel changes is 40.71% of payroll in FY 26.

The Out Years

The annualized ongoing fiscal impact identified above would continue into the future subject to inflation.

OLR Bill AnalysissHB 7219AN ACT PROTECTING 504 PLAN ACCOMMODATIONS FOR STUDENTS IN CONNECTICUT.SUMMARY

In effect, this bill creates state level protections for students with disabilities that generally mirror those under the federal Section 504 law and regulations (see BACKGROUND). These protections apply in addition to state special education law, which conforms to the federal Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA). Existing state law, unchanged by the bill, gives students an equal opportunity to participate in public school activities, programs, and courses of study without discrimination based on disability (CGS § 10-15c).

By incorporating requirements from Section 504 and related regulations (hereafter Section 504) into state law, the bill adds provisions to state law that require local and regional school boards to provide students with disabilities, as defined in the bill, with a free appropriate public education (FAPE) that meets their needs as adequately as the needs of students without disabilities are met. It also creates related protections.

As is the case with Section 504, the bill's provisions overlap to some extent with other existing requirements, including IDEA and corresponding state special education laws. However, the bill, like Section 504, applies to a wider scope of students with disabilities than IDEA (see BACKGROUND).

The bill specifies that a school board's obligation to comply with the bill's requirements is not negated by any other state or local law or other requirement that, based on disability, imposes prohibitions or limits on the eligibility of students with disabilities to receive services. (Section 504 contains a corresponding provision on compliance regardless of inconsistent state laws.)

EFFECTIVE DATE: Upon passage

STUDENT WITH A DISABILITY, DEFINED

The bill adopts the same disability-related definitions that apply under Section 504. Specifically, under the bill, a “student with a disability” is one who:

1. has a physical or mental impairment that substantially limits at least one major life activity (e.g., self-care, walking, speaking, and learning);
2. has a history of such an impairment that substantially limits a major life activity, or was misclassified as having one (i.e. “has a record of an impairment”); or
3. is regarded as having an impairment.

The bill further defines “physical or mental impairment” as any (1) physiological disorder or condition, cosmetic disfigurement, or anatomical loss affecting at least one body system (e.g., neurological, musculoskeletal, and respiratory) or (2) mental or psychological disorder (e.g., intellectual disability or specific learning disability).

Under the bill, a student is “regarded as having an impairment” if he or she has (1) an impairment that does not substantially limit a major life activity, but is treated by a school board as though it does; (2) an impairment that does substantially limit a major life activity, but only because of others’ attitudes toward the impairment; or (3) no impairment, but is treated by a school board as though he or she has one.

DISCRIMINATORY ACTIONS BROADLY PROHIBITED

Like Section 504, the bill protects students with disabilities from discrimination, on the basis of the disability, under any program or activity offered by a school board and prohibits denying these students the benefits of the program or activity or excluding their participation. The bill requires school boards to annually submit an assurance, on a form the education commissioner specifies, that their programs and activities will be operated in compliance with the bill. (Under federal Section 504 regulations, school boards and the State Department of Education (SDE) must submit similar assurances in connection with receipt of federal funds.)

Under the bill, each school board must take appropriate and ongoing steps to notify parents and guardians of enrolled students that it does not discriminate based on disability in admission or access to, or treatment in, its programs or activities. The notification must identify the designated compliance coordinator (see below) and may be given by posting information on the school board's website, in student handbooks, and in parent handbooks or manuals.

Provision of Aid, Benefits, and Services

The bill specifically prohibits school boards, when providing aid, benefits, or services, from doing the following on the basis of disability:

1. denying a student with a disability the opportunity to participate in or benefit from the aid, benefit, or service;
2. giving a student with a disability an opportunity to participate in or benefit from the aid, benefit, or service that is not equal to that given to students without a disability;
3. giving a student with a disability an aid, benefit, or service that is not as effective as that given to students without disabilities;
4. giving students with disabilities different or separate aid, benefits, or services, unless doing so is necessary to give the students aid, benefits, or services that are as effective as those given to students without disabilities;
5. aiding or perpetuating discrimination against a student with a disability by significantly assisting an agency, organization, or person that discriminates on the basis of disability; and

6. otherwise limiting a student with a disability in the enjoyment of any right, privilege, advantage, or opportunity enjoyed by students without a disability receiving an aid, benefit, or service.

Under the bill, these prohibitions apply to actions the board takes directly and those taken through contractual, licensing, or other arrangements.

The bill specifies that even if a school board provides separate or different aid, benefits, or services that meet the bill's requirements, it may not deny a student with disabilities the opportunity to participate in the aid, benefits, and services that are not separate or different.

Discriminatory Criteria or Administrative Methods

The bill prohibits school boards from directly or through contractual or other arrangements using criteria or methods of administration that:

1. effectively subject students with disabilities to discrimination on the basis of disability;
2. defeat or substantially impair accomplishment of the board's program or activity objectives with regard to students with disabilities, whether intentionally or in effect; or
3. perpetuate another school board's discrimination, if both boards are subject to common administrative control.

Site Selection for Facilities, Generally

Under the bill, a school board may not select a facility location or site that (1) effectively excludes students with disabilities from, denies them the benefits of, or otherwise subjects them to discrimination under a program or activity or (2) defeats or substantially impairs accomplishment of the board's program or activity with regard to students with disabilities, whether intentionally or in effect.

Under the bill, a "facility" is all or a portion of a building, structure, equipment, road, walk, parking lot, or other real or personal property or interest in such property.

Exceptions and Limitations

Equally Effective Standard. As Section 504 does, the bill specifies that aids, benefits, and services do not need to produce identical results or achievement for students with and without disabilities to be considered equally effective. Instead, they must give students with disabilities equal opportunity to get the same result, gain the same benefit, or reach the same achievement level in the most integrated setting appropriate to the student's needs.

Exclusion of Certain Students Permitted. The bill specifies that it does not prohibit the following:

1. excluding students who do not have a disability from aid, benefits, or services that are limited to students with disabilities pursuant to IDEA, the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), or state law or
2. excluding a specific class of students with disabilities from aid, benefits, or services limited to a different class of students with disabilities under those laws.

REQUIREMENT TO PROVIDE FAPE

As under Section 504, school boards must provide FAPE to each student with a disability within the board's jurisdiction, regardless of the disability's nature or severity. Under the bill, FAPE is the provision of regular or special education and related services that (1) is designed to meet individual needs of students with disabilities as adequately as the needs of students without disabilities are met and (2) adheres to procedures meeting the bill's requirements (e.g., on selecting the educational setting, see below).

FAPE under Section 504 and the bill is different than under IDEA (see BACKGROUND). But the bill specifies that implementing an individualized education program (IEP) under IDEA and the corresponding state law meets the bill's requirements.

The bill allows school boards to place or refer students with disabilities for aid, benefits, or services it does not operate in order to fulfill its obligations under the bill, but the board remains responsible for ensuring the bill's requirements are met.

Identifying Eligible Students

The bill requires school boards that operate preschool, elementary, secondary, and adult education programs to annually make an effort to identify and locate every student with a disability residing in the board's jurisdiction who is not receiving a public education and take appropriate steps to notify the students and their parents or guardians of the board's education-specific duties under the bill.

Free Education

Under the bill, school boards must provide FAPE without cost to students or their parents or guardians, either directly through services they provide or by paying the cost of services provided by another entity. However, they may charge fees to students with disabilities that are also charged to those without them. The bill specifies that it does not relieve an insurer or similar third party from an otherwise valid obligation to pay for services for a student with a disability. Boards may use funds from any public or private agency to meet their obligations.

School boards that refer students with disabilities to programs or services they do not operate must ensure adequate transportation for the students at no greater cost to the parent or student than they would incur if the board operated the program. If a residential placement is necessary to provide FAPE, the placement, including nonmedical care and room and board, must be provided at no cost to the student or their parents or guardians.

The bill specifies, however, that if a school board has made FAPE available to a student with a disability but his or her parent or guardian places the student in a private school, the school board is not required to pay for the private school. Disputes over the provision of FAPE or of financial responsibility are subject to the due process provisions (see below).

EVALUATION

Under the bill (as under Section 504), school boards that operate a public elementary or secondary education program or activity must evaluate students who may need special education because of a disability before taking any action related to placement. The boards must establish standards to ensure that tests and evaluation materials they use:

1. are valid for the specific purpose for which they are used and administered by trained personnel in conformance with the instructions provided by their producer;
2. include ones tailored to assess specific areas of educational need and not just ones designed to provide a single general intelligence quotient;
3. are selected and administered so results accurately reflect the student's aptitude, achievement level, or other measure, rather than reflecting any impaired sensory, manual, or speaking skills (except where such skills are the factors being measured).

School boards must also establish procedures for periodically reevaluating students who have been given special education and related services, which may include a reevaluation procedure consistent with IDEA.

EDUCATIONAL SETTING

Under the bill (as under Section 504), school boards must educate, or provide for education of, each student with a disability with their nondisabled peers to the maximum extent appropriate to the needs of the student with a disability. School boards must place a student with a disability in the general education classroom unless they demonstrate that they cannot effectively educate the student by using accommodations and other supplementary aids in the general education environment.

Additionally, school boards must ensure that students with disabilities can participate in nonacademic and extracurricular activities it provides (e.g., meals and recess) with their nondisabled peers to the maximum extent appropriate to the needs of the student with a disability.

Placement Procedures

When interpreting evaluations and making placement decisions, the bill requires school boards to:

1. use information from a variety of sources (e.g., aptitude and achievement tests, teacher recommendations, physical condition, social or cultural background, and adaptive behavior);
2. establish procedures to ensure documentation and careful consideration of all the sources;
3. ensure that the placement decision is made by a group that includes people knowledgeable about the student, the evaluation data, and the placement options; and
4. ensure that the placement complies with the requirement to place students in the general education environment as much as possible.

If a school board places a student with a disability in a setting other than the general education environment, it must take into account the location and the proximity to the student's home.

If a school board operates a facility that is identifiable as being for students with disabilities, it must ensure that the facility and available services and activities are comparable to the board's other facilities, services, and activities.

NONACADEMIC SERVICES

The bill, like Section 504, requires school boards to provide nonacademic and extracurricular services and activities in way that gives students with disabilities an equal opportunity to participate, including counseling services, recreational activities, and referrals to assistance agencies, among other things.

If a school board offers personal, academic, or vocational counseling, guidance, or placement to students, it must ensure that students with disabilities are not counseled toward more restrictive objectives than students without disabilities.

Under the bill, school boards may not discriminate on the basis of disability when providing physical education courses, athletics, and similar aid, benefits, or services and must afford students with disabilities an equal opportunity for participation. School boards may offer students with disabilities physical education and athletics that are separate or different from those for nondisabled students, but only if the separation complies with the bill's placement requirements and a student with a disability is not denied the opportunity to compete or participate on teams and in courses that are not different.

PRESCHOOL, CHILD CARE, AND ADULT EDUCATION

As under Section 504, the bill specifies that school boards providing preschool, child care services, or adult education may not exclude students with disabilities based on their disability and must take into account the needs of students with disabilities when determining the aid, benefits, or services they will provide.

COMPLIANCE COORDINATOR AND COMPLAINT PROCEDURE

As under Section 504, the bill requires school boards to designate at least one person to coordinate the board's efforts to comply with the bill's provisions. Each board must adopt due process standards that provide for prompt and equitable resolution of complaints alleging violations of the bill's requirements.

PROCEDURAL SAFEGUARDS

Under the bill, as under Section 504, school boards with elementary or secondary education programs must establish and implement certain procedural safeguards pertaining to the identification, evaluation, and placement of students who need or may need special instruction or related services. The safeguards must include (1) notice requirements, (2) an opportunity for parents or guardians to examine records, (3) an impartial hearing with the opportunity for parent or guardian participation and representation by counsel, and (4) a review procedure.

Compliance may include, but is not limited to, using the procedural safeguards required under IDEA.

REMEDIAL ACTION ORDERED BY SDE & VOLUNTARY ACTION

The bill creates an enforcement framework that is similar to the one the federal Department of Education's Assistant Secretary for Civil Rights uses to enforce Section 504. Under the bill, if the SDE commissioner finds that a school board discriminated against students with disabilities on the basis of disability in violation of the bill, the board must take remedial action that the commissioner deems appropriate to overcome the discrimination's effects. The commissioner may require the board to take remedial action, if necessary, with respect to students who (1) no longer participate in the board's programs or activities but were there when the discrimination occurred or (2) would have been participants had the discrimination not happened.

Under the bill, if another board of education exercises control over the school board in violation, the commissioner may require either or both boards to take remedial action.

Like Section 504, the bill also specifically allows school boards to take voluntary actions to overcome the effects of conditions that resulted in the limited participation of students with disabilities in the board's programs or activities.

BACKGROUND

IDEA Compared to Section 504

IDEA is the main federal law governing special education (20 U.S.C. § 1400 et seq.; 34 C.F.R. § 300.1 et seq.). It authorizes grants to states and school districts and attaches a series of conditions to funding, which states agree to adhere to by accepting funding. IDEA guarantees students with qualifying disabilities the right to FAPE that is tailored to their unique needs and implemented under a planning document called an IEP. It also requires school districts to identify and evaluate students who may need special education, educate students with disabilities with their nondisabled peers to the maximum extent possible, and follow certain procedural safeguards, among other things.

Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 (29 U.S.C. § 794; 34 C.F.R. § 104.1 et seq.) protects individuals with disabilities from discrimination in programs and activities that receive federal financial assistance, including public elementary and secondary schools and some private schools. This law and the plans commonly used to implement it (504 plans) are different from IDEA and IEPs. While IDEA guarantees individually tailored education services for students with disabilities (i.e. special education), Section 504 is a broad civil rights law that aims to eliminate barriers to a student's access to FAPE by providing reasonable accommodations.

Definition of Disability Under IDEA

IDEA's definition of disability is categorical and education-specific. To be a "child with a disability" under IDEA (and thus qualify for special education services), a child must (1) have a disability that falls under one of the enumerated categories and (2) need special education and related services because of the disability. The categories are: autism, deaf-blindness, hearing impairment (including deafness), intellectual disability, developmental delay (for certain ages), orthopedic impairment, serious emotional disturbance, specific learning disability, speech or language impairment, traumatic brain injury, vision impairment, multiple disabilities, and other health impairment (20 U.S.C. § 1401 (3); 34 C.F.R. § 300.8(c)).

Planning for FAPE Under IDEA and Section 504

The term "FAPE" is used in the context of both IDEA and Section 504.

FAPE under Section 504 is focused on discrimination protections and equal access to educational opportunities for students with disabilities. By contrast, FAPE under IDEA is an entitlement, giving qualifying students with disabilities the right to individualized instruction and related services tailored specifically to their needs and to ensure an educational benefit.

While IDEA involves special education and related services provided through an IEP, in practice, FAPE under Section 504 typically involves providing reasonable accommodations and modifications for students with disabilities in the general education classroom. Generally, Section 504 is applied to ensure that students who may not need an IEP still receive the supports they require to fully participate in school. Unlike under IDEA, Section 504 does not require schools to write down the accommodations or modifications it will provide students in a formal plan; however, in practice, Connecticut schools develop “504 plans” to ensure compliance with the law.
