Explanation

The bill expands on what is a "discriminatory practice" under Commission on Human Rights and Opportunities (CHRO) laws resulting in a potential cost¹ to CHRO and potential revenue to the General Fund.

The exact cost will depend on the number of additional CHRO proceedings brought due to the expanded definition of "discriminatory practice".

The exact revenue will depend on the number of additional fines imposed due to the legislation.

¹ This cost is associated with additional staff time, materials and resources required to facilitate additional proceedings.

Senate "A" strikes the underlying bill resulting in the fiscal impact described above.
