sHB 6930

AN ACT CONCERNING THE SOCIAL EQUITY COUNCIL'S RECOMMENDATIONS REGARDING SOCIAL EQUITY PLANS, STRATEGIC PLANNING, ETHICS, LICENSE RENEWAL FEES AND FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE APPLICATIONS.

SUMMARY

This bill requires each cannabis establishment to maintain an active social equity plan and submit an annual report on the plan to the Social Equity Council for review. It also requires the council to (1) develop a three-year strategic plan outlining its goals, planned actions, and priorities for the period, and (2) adopt a code of ethics and require its staff to complete an annual ethics training course.

By law, certain social equity applicants pay 50% of the renewal fees of other cannabis establishments for the first three renewal cycles. Under the bill, a cannabis establishment licensee is not entitled to pay a reduced license renewal fee if (1) the business is sold or ownership changes during the three years after a final license is issued, and (2) the sale or change is made to anyone other than a social equity applicant.

Finally, the bill sets a 120-day deadline for the Department of Economic and Community Development (DECD) and the council to approve or deny an application for financial assistance for certain low-interest loans to social equity applicants under the Canna-Business Revolving Loan Fund.

EFFECTIVE DATE: Upon passage

§ 1 — ACTIVE SOCIAL EQUITY PLANS

The bill requires each licensed cannabis establishment to (1) maintain an active social equity plan while the establishment is in operation and (2) starting by March 1, 2026, annually submit to the Social Equity Council a report on the plan's impact during the prior year on the disproportionately impacted area where the establishment is located.

By law, all cannabis establishments seeking to apply for a final license must submit a social equity plan to the council for review and approval. Generally, a cannabis establishment's social equity plan must address social, economic, and cultural needs in locations identified as being disproportionately impacted by drug laws.

Under the bill, the council must review each submitted report and may, within 60 days of completing the review, request that an establishment revise its social equity plan to ensure that the plan furthers the principles of equity.

By law, a "cannabis establishment" is a cannabis producer, dispensary facility, cultivator, micro-cultivator, retailer, hybrid retailer (one licensed to sell both recreational cannabis and medical marijuana), food and beverage manufacturer, product manufacturer or packager, delivery service, or transporter.

§ 1 — STRATEGIC PLAN AND ETHICAL CODE OF CONDUCT

The bill requires the Social Equity Council, by October 1, 2025, to develop and submit a strategic plan to the governor and the Appropriations and General Law committees. The plan must include a framework that outlines the council's goals, planned actions, and priorities for the three-year period from October 1, 2025, through September 30, 2028.

The bill also requires the council, by October 1, 2025, to develop and adopt an ethical code of conduct for council members and staff. Starting by January 1, 2026, the council members and staff must annually complete an ethics training course on disproportionately impacted areas and the cannabis industry.

§ 2 — SALE OR CHANGE IN OWNERSHIP

Existing law requires the Social Equity Council to adopt regulations to prevent a cannabis establishment license awarded to a social equity applicant from being sold to someone other than another social equity applicant during the provisional licensure period and for three years after final licensure, except where the backer has died or has a condition (e.g., a physical or mental illness) that would interfere with the backer's ability to operate.

Under the bill, if the council approves any sale or change of ownership or control of a license awarded to a social equity applicant during the three years following a final license issuance, and the sale or change in ownership or control is to someone other than a social equity applicant, then the licensee must be treated like one without social equity status starting on the approval date. The new licensee is no longer eligible to pay reduced license renewal fees.

§ 3 — CANNA-BUSINESS REVOLVING LOAN FUND

Existing law requires DECD and the council to jointly establish a revolving loan program to provide, among other things, low-interest loans to social equity applicants, municipalities, or nonprofits to rehabilitate, renovate, or develop unused or underused real property for use as a cannabis establishment.

The bill requires DECD and the council to approve or deny a completed application within 120 days after receiving the application with all the required information and documentation. If DECD and the council deny an application, the applicant may reapply without prejudice and may submit a new application.

BACKGROUND

Social Equity Council

By law, the Social Equity Council is charged with, among other duties, promoting and encouraging full participation in the cannabis industry by people from communities disproportionately harmed by cannabis prohibition.

Related Bill

sHB 7178, favorably reported by the General Law Committee, among other things, allows certain cannabis establishments backers to increase their ownership in an equity joint venture to more than 50% if at least three years have passed and with the Social Equity Council's approval.
