Explanation

The amendment strikes the underlying bill and its associated fiscal impact. The amendment makes various changes related to tribal wildlife and fishery programs.

Section 1 establishes the Connecticut Tribal Wildlife and Fisheries Advisory Council. This does not result in a cost to the Department of Energy and Environmental Protection (DEEP) as DEEP has the staff and expertise necessary to meet the requirements of the bill.

Section 2 requires the DEEP commissioner to give free hunting and fishing permits to any enrolled member of a federally- or state-recognized tribe. This results in a revenue loss to the resources of the General Fund. The scope of the revenue loss is indeterminate as it is unknown how many free permits will be issued and correspondingly how many fewer hunting and fishing (paid) permits will be purchased. License and permit fee range from approximately $11 to $65 dollars¹.

The section also requires the Office of Policy and Management (OPM) to allocate funds from the Mashantucket Pequot and Mohegan Fund (MPMF) to DEEP make up any revenue loss associated with permit fees for eligible tribe members. The MPMF is funded via a transfer from the General Fund that is equal to the appropriated amount for the MPMF Grant in each fiscal year. The amendment does not provide an additional revenue transfer from the GF to MPMF grant. It is unclear how this will impact the MPMF grants paid out of this fund.

Section 3 requires the Department of Agriculture (DoAg) to prioritize tribal meat, fish, and aquaculture facilities for technical assistance and various other federal support. This does not result in a cost to the state.

Section 4 potentially expands the number private land deer permits issued by DEEP annually, which could result in a revenue loss to the General Fund. The scope of the revenue loss is indeterminate as it is unknown how many ceremonial permits would be issued and correspondingly how many fewer hunting and fishing (paid) permits would be purchased.

Section 5 allows tribes to submit a report to OPM listing any additional state-issued permits, licenses, endorsements, or stamps and the associated cost. The section requires OPM to allocate funds from the MPMF for these costs. The MPMF is funded via a transfer from the General Fund that is equal to the appropriated amount for the MPMF Grant in each fiscal year. The amendment does not provide an additional revenue transfer from the GF to MPMF grant. It is unclear how this will impact the MPMF grants paid out of this fund.
