3. OPM Update:

- In preparation for the larger JJPOC meeting, OPM and Rep Walker usually have a meeting with TYJI to go over the agenda. At that meeting, it was shared that around the JJPOC community members are having questions involving dual-involved youth or cross-over youth. This began around a presentation that was given last year. With Daniel, co-chair of JJPOC moving forward, being newer to the conversation he has requested that TYJI work with the workgroups and JJPOC members to produce a higher-level one-page document that gives him a better understanding of the data that is being requested by members of the JJPOC from DCF and Judicial regarding this youth.
- This will help look at what could be produced and how a data request may work for this type of data.
- Since this conversation last week, OPM has learned that DCF and Judicial have already been working on a crossover youth pilot project that touches on a lot of the data requests that members would be making.
- The project is being worked on by CSSD, DCF, OPM, and Georgetown. University
- The goal is to provide summary statistics for crossover youth and test new technologies for data matching.
- OPM is not sure if this eliminates the need for the one-page document, but OPM wanted to let everyone know this information and that OPM is looking into it.
- Seems like the agencies have been working on this for quite some time.
- The reason for looking into this was to test privacy-enhancing technologies at a state level
  - i. Important, interesting set of techniques that have been used at federal levels
  - ii. There have been several pilots
  - iii. 3 or 4 different techniques centered around trying to minimize the need to share sensitive information across agencies.

iv. Crossover youth would be a good pilot because it is a population with higher sensitivity, and it is a small population which makes it easier to work with.

- Fits a lot of different converging needs.

4. Equity Dashboard Update from OPM:

- The team continues to work on the third measure for the dashboard and methods to update the dashboard with the latest data.
- OPM has a meeting with CCLP about a document they hope will make the dashboard more accessible to a wider audience and increase awareness of the dashboard's capabilities.
- OPM is working to continue to enhance the dashboard and keep it up-to-date
- OPM currently has up-to-date data for the prior two measures of the dashboard.
