

JJPOC Incarceration Work Group
August 17th, 2020
2:00 PM- 3:30 PM
Zoom Conference Call

Meeting Summary:

- Update on Approved CSG Recommendations
 - CSG recommendations were previously reviewed by the IOYouth Task Force in July. The recommendations focused on increasing diversion efforts, such as limiting the number of youth that come into courts and focusing on what type of behavior results in cases such as disorderly conduct.
 - CSG has recommended creating a pilot program with 4 small JRBs to increase resources and data collection and to determine if JRBs is an efficient solution for diversion.
 - CSG recommended decreasing pre-trial detention and want to provide a decision whether to not have cases held judicially or by a screening process and community supervision to make sure the services are matched better.
 - The workgroup would partner with a resources department, using the 18-year-olds currently under detention facilities and establish a projection model, reaching out to the kids and putting them under community-based supervision.
- Outline 2020 Work Plan
 - The Incarceration workgroup reviewed the work plans of 2018 and discussed what could be improved for the 2020 work plan.
 - There was discussion of evaluating COVID-19 responses and what did or didn't work and a collaboration with the Children's Behavioral Health Plan Implementation Advisory Board.
 - The review of Lael Chaster's report summarizes what changes were made and captures what has been going on for youth and capture information for 18-20-year old's. The report will also include regular updates on conditions pre-covid and a short addendum of what procedures were followed during covid.
 - Future agenda items that have reached a group consensus include:
 - Leadership in the Incarceration Work Group
 - Discharge planning and reentry
 - Reviewing the definition for solitary confinement
 - Awaiting a review of Sarah's OC updated report
- Other
 - There is an agreement that an Incarceration workgroup will be a part of JJPOC and will frequently report updates back to JJPOC.
