PREFACE

A score of years, perhaps, before his death, Dr. Russell began quietly to accumulate material for a history of his own family. Up to that time he had not ascertained his line of descent from John Russell of Cambridge, Wethersfield, and Hadley.

With that discovery, he at once began to investigate the lives and times of his early ancestors in New England, taking up the study of them during his intervals of leisure.

When he had sufficiently cleared the path to John the Emigrant, he grew eager to track him across the seas, and in November, 1905, he entered into correspondence with Mr. J. R. Hutchinson, a distinguished English genealogist, for the purpose of having him ascertain, if possible, his English ancestry.

Mr. Hutchinson, after some months of patient research, became convinced that he had established the English line of Dr. Russell, and the chart he made is printed in this volume.

Dr. Russell, too, was convinced, and on receipt of Mr. Hutchinson's statement, wrote the editor to that effect.

While there is much to commend the view of Mr. Hutchinson, the failure to discover any son of John Russell of Ipswich, England, by the name of Philip, the one necessary link in the chain to connect the Russells over sea with Dr. Russell's American pedigree, must leave the matter still in doubt with the careful genealogist.

This book does not pretend to be a Russell Genealogy. As the title, written by Dr. Russell himself, indicates, it is rather a history of some of the descendants of John Russell, who came to Cambridge in October, 1635.

At the time of his lamented death, February 3, 1909, Dr. Russell was still corresponding with relatives and others, and the materials collected by him had not been put together for a consecutive history. Not until this had been accomplished, could it be determined what gaps needed to be filled. As far as possible, the editor has allowed Dr. Russell's story of his ancestry to be told as he wrote it, only correcting palpable errors, and amplifying where he believed Dr. Russell would desire it. Dr. Russell had only sketched in full, the lives of John Russell the Emigrant, and of his son, the Rev. John Russell.

The other sketches, save the one of himself by the Doctor, the editor must hold himself responsible for.

The Wadsworth Family is entirely the work of the editor, supplemented by some private memoranda, kindly furnished by Mrs. Russell, who has also placed at his disposal all the matter relating to the Beresford Family. For the recent data incorporated into the brief sketch of the Tuttle Family, his thanks are due Miss Alice G. Tuttle of Hartford, and Mr. Ruel C. Tuttle, the artist, of Hartford, who has also been most generous of his time in adding to the value of the work by his Russell researches, and by making the sketch of the old Russell homestead at Sunderland, Mass. The editor is sure, were Dr. Russell alive, he would mention his indebtedness to his old friend, Mr. George E. Hoadley, on whom he so often called for genealogical help, and whose transcripts of records, well nigh inaccessible, have been gladly pressed into service. No one, too, who knew Dr. Russell can fail to be grateful to the Rev. Dr. Samuel Hart for his discriminating review of a justly honored life.

And now in bringing to a close his pleasant labors on the book, here offered as a slight memorial to Dr. Russell, the editor would express his many obligations to Mr. Albert C. Bates, librarian of the Connecticut Historical Society, and to his two friends, laborers in the same field of study, Miss Alice M. Gay of Hartford and Mr. James Allen Kibbe of Warehouse Point.

GURDON WADSWORTH RUSSELL M.D. LL.D.

BY

SAMUEL HART, D.D.

GURDON WADSWORTH RUSSELL

Dr. Russell's long life was spent in the city of his birth, except that for three years in term-time, while he was studying medicine, he sojourned in New Haven, and for a year after receiving his degree he practised his profession in Wethersfield. He was always interested in that which took place about him, and he remembered all in which he was interested, so that he knew the history of his native place in much detail, as to both persons and events, for some fourscore and ten years. And from time to time he wrote out the record of the past from his memory of it, as in "Up-Neck in 1825," "The Old Stone Jug" (which was the Centre District School on what is now Market Street), "Physicians in Hartford in 1820 and 1837," the notes with which he enlivened the "History of Christ Church," and many communications to the local papers which ought to be collected and published. Well known to the community and knowing it well, he was indeed a part of all that he recorded and of much besides in Hartford's history which will not be readily forgotten by those who knew him.

His paternal grandfather was John Russell, who served in the Revolutionary army at Boston, on Long Island, and at White Plains; his father, bearing the same name, was a printer, who was born in Litchfield in 1790 and came to Hartford about 1810. His first home in the city was on Church Street, a little west of Christ Church, where his son was born on the 10th of April 1815; later he removed to the

"Up-Neck" region. The mother was Martha, daughter of Gurdon Wadsworth, a lineal descendant of William Wadsworth, one of the company who came with Thomas Hooker and settled Newtown, afterwards named Hartford. Gurdon Wadsworth Russell as a youth went to school in the "Stone Jug" and the Hopkins Grammar School — now merged in the Public High School — and at Manchester under the care of the Rev. Van R. Osborne. Entering Washington (now Trinity) College in 1830, at the age of fifteen, he took his bachelor's degree in 1834. Immediately after graduation he began the study of medicine with Dr. Amariah Brigham of Hartford, and then entered the Medical department of Yale College, from which he received the degree of Doctor of Medicine in 1837. A year later, after a brief professional residence in Wethersfield, he returned to his native city; there he continued in the active and successful practice of medicine, until the approach of physical infirmity obliged him to limit his labors to those of an advisory nature. His office was for many years on North Main Street, as it was called, just above the turn; in 1884, he built for himself a home at Number 207 Farmington Avenue, with which, after a quarter century's experience, he wrote that he was "perfectly satisfied."

Dr. Russell married 12 September 1838 Sarah Elizabeth, daughter of Samuel and Elizabeth (Hotchkiss) Tuttle, of Hartford, who was born 11 May 1816 and died 16 July 1871; their children were Edward, born 13 June 1839, died 17 April 1877; Elizabeth Hotchkiss, born 5 January 1853, died 15 December 1855; and Gurdon Tuttle, born 6 December 1856, died 6 May 1858. He married again 27 November 1883 Mary Isabella Beresford, daughter of Dr. Samuel Barwick and Mary (Anderson) Beresford, born 17 November 1842.

At the time of his death, on the 3d day of February 1909, Dr. Russell had been for sixty-five years a graduate of Trinity College, which conferred upon him the degree of Doctor of Laws in 1905, and for sixty-three years a graduate of Yale University, his name having stood for some little time at the head of the roll of the living alumni of those institutions. For seventy years he had been a communicant and a member of the parish of Christ Church, and for sixty-two years vestryman or warden, in all this time a wise adviser and a generous supporter of its work; the large silver alms basin was his gift, and when the recess chancel was built he presented the stone reredos above the altar. He was also, as has been already noted, the historian of the parish, devoting to the work much painstaking and affectionate labor. In his early interest in historical matters, he joined in 1840 the Connecticut Historical Society, and lived to be by twenty-four years its senior member. In 1846 he was one of the physicians who organized the Hartford Medical Society, from which, forty-one years after, he received the gift of a loving cup as a memorial of a half-century of service in professional life. In 1850 he was appointed the first medical examiner of the Ætna Life Insurance Company, becoming at a later date, and remaining until his death, its medical director. In the Connecticut State Medical Society he held the offices of secretary, vice-president, and (in 1871) of president; at its centennial meeting in 1892, he read a paper on "Early Medicine and Early Medical Men in Connecticut." In 1855 he assisted in the establishment of the Hartford Hospital, to which he rendered services of a varied and important character; when in 1902 he retired from the presidency of the corporation, which he had held for fourteen years, he was made president emeritus, being also its senior director. He was also nineteen years president of the Hartford Retreat for the Insane, to which he gave a part of his farm on Cedar Mountain, erecting buildings there for the use of its patients, and for which also he built a beautiful stone chapel in 1875, naming it the Elizabeth Chapel in memory of his wife.

Dr. Russell became a Mason in St. John's Lodge in 1853, and was a charter member of Hartford Lodge which was organized in 1859. He served for twenty-five years on the Park Board and the Park Commission of the City of Hartford; and in this capacity, as in others, he gave the city the benefit of his knowledge, his taste, and his good judgment. He was also a trustee or director of several important financial institutions. From 1855 to 1869 he was a member of the Corporation of Trinity College and for nine years its secretary. In the later years of his life he bestowed much labor on a history and genealogy of the Russell family, which he brought nearly to its conclusion.

Dr. Russell found his recreation in the study of nature in its varied forms, the cultivation of fruit-trees and flowers, the care of his suburban cottage and farm, the reading of the varied treasures of his library, and — it is not amiss to add — in deeds of benevolence to those who were distressed “in mind, body, or estate.” Bishop Nichols of California, who was for ten years his pastor, testifies to “the vital relation of his devout religious character to his profession, and of his professional success to his promotion of the interests of his church and of philanthropy in general,” so that “his own winning personality had in itself a singularly happy combination of the two therapeutic agencies, faith and skill;” and he adds that there was a “distinct blending of his religion and his medicine in his own instance of a long and happy life.”

Dr. Russell, by reason of his prominence as a venerated citizen and as the representative of public institutions, was invited to attend on many occasions of general interest, and his presence was welcomed and his continued activity and aptness of speech were noticed to the very end of his life. He attended the Commencement of Trinity College in 1908, as had long been his custom, and told at the Alumni luncheon how he had seen the academic procession marching to the Commencement dinner of 1826 or 1827, and wondered whether he should ever have the honor of attending such an occasion. When the Society of Colonial Wars unveiled the memorial which it placed to mark the site of the Charter Oak, he was present, and soon after he wrote an article on the oak, designating its species, and distinguishing between some trees which were really its descendants and others for which a false claim of such descent was made. At the last graduation of nurses from the training school of the Hartford Hospital, on a cold evening in October, he spoke felicitously, prefacing his remarks with the words, "I cannot hear very well, and I cannot see very well, and you will presently think that I cannot speak very well;" and at the Bridge Celebration in the October before his death, at the request of the committee of arrangements, he took the chair on the evening of the literary exercises, and later he was present at the presentation of a silver service to Senator Bulkeley, president of the Commission.

At the funeral service in Christ Church, the various institutions with which Dr. Russell had been connected were represented, and there was a large assembly of friends and citizens, in fact of all that is best in the life of the community which had known him so long. The bearers represented Christ Church, Trinity College, the Hartford Medical Society, the Hartford Retreat for the Insane, the Hartford Hospital, the Connecticut Historical Society, the Ætna Life Insurance Company, the Society for Savings, the Security Company, and the Farmers and Mechanics National Bank. The service was read by the Bishop of the Diocese, the Rector and the Assistant Minister of the Parish, and the Dean of the Berkeley Divinity School, seven others of the clergy of Hartford being present in the chancel. On the coffin, with a few flowers—the family having asked that but few should be sent—was a cross of hemlock and cedar and ferns and bitter-sweet from the Cedar Mountain home, prepared at his own request. The burial was in his family lot at Cedar Hill Cemetery.

It will be seen that Dr. Russell's interests were many and varied, while yet he was professionally, before all things else, a physician. His character and his works made him not only a skilful, but also a beloved physician. And his literary work showed that he had the quick and keen insight of a man who could "rerum cognoscere causas," and put into words, with gentle and true humor, what he thus discerned. Thus as he prepared for publication the annals of Christ Church, the occurrence of a name for the first time would recall to him the living man, and the thought of the man would suggest some peculiarity from which he drew in words a picture of the man; or some event, in matters financial or of other kind, would point a moral for later times, and the moral was drawn. He will be remembered, not only for his gifts to institutions of learning and beneficence, not only for his services rendered for the relief of suffering and distress, but also for the truth and kindness which in him were so well combined, and for the good example in which he still speaks and serves a new generation.

THE RUSSELL FAMILY IN ENGLAND

ENGLISH ABSTRACTS

While investigating the subject of the ancestry of John Russell the Emigrant, Mr. J. R. Hutchinson, the English genealogist, made abstracts of Probate records, and copied entries of various kinds relating to the English Russells and allied names.

Though most of these have no bearing on the ancestry of the late Dr. Russell, it was his wish that they should be printed, as of possible service to some desirous of information in regard to the English Russells and the other families therein mentioned.

PARISH REGISTERS

ST. MARGARET'S, IPSWICH

THE Register of St. Margaret's, Ipswich, is almost unique, in that it begins with the year 1537, whereas English Registers at large begin with the year 1538, or with the year 1558. The inclusion of this exceptionally early date proves to be of the utmost value to us, as the extracts given below will show, since it supplies us with the baptism of John Russell's grandfather . . . an event for which we would have sought in vain had the Register commenced with the year 1538.

The Register of St. Margaret's, from the commencement in 1537 to the year 1600, is unique in another particular. IT IS THE ORIGINAL REGISTER, written on the paper of the period, and in a variety of hands, large portions of it being in an early and difficult "Court" hand, other portions in a hand so minute and cursive that it can only be read with the aid of a glass. I have searched many registers, but never any so difficult as this.

Very few ORIGINAL early registers are in existence. Copies on parchment were made about 1600, pursuant to Orders in Council to that effect, and in nearly every instance the originals were destroyed or lost.

The following are the Russell entries found in the Register of St. Margaret's, Ipswich, between the years 1537 and 1600. Curiously enough, they begin with the baptism of William Russell the grandfather, and end with the baptism of John Russell the grandson. The latter is found amongst the most minutely written of all the entries of that description. It occurs at the very foot of the page, where the paper is much frayed, and is considerably mutilated in consequence. The mutilations are indicated, in the transcript given below, by dots, thus; but the sense of the entry is nevertheless perfectly plain.*

IPSWICH DOGGET ROLLS

1 Eliz. to 1640

Ipswich: Sessions of the Peace there holden 6 Aug. 19 Eliz.
One of the Sergeants at Mace: WILLIAM RUSSELL.

Ipswich: Sessions of the Peace there holden 3 Jan. 20 Eliz.

16 July 1588. William Mydnall of Ipswich, merchant, Edward Cage of Ipswich, yeoman, William Sparrowe of Ipswich, grocer, William Swetsure of Great Marlo, co. Bucks, clothier, and Joan his wife (one of the daughters of THOMAS WHITTING† late of Ipswich, grocer, and Marian his wife, deceased) sell and grant unto Robert Sparrowe and John Sparrowe, the eighth part of one messuage and garden in St. Nicholas, Ipswich, and the eighth part of a messuage in St. Mary Elms, late William Attwood, afterwards Thomas Whytinge, and afterwards John Sherman.

20 May 33 Eliz. Barnabas Candler of Ipswich, tayler, and Alice his wife, for the sum of £60 to them paid by WILLIAM RUSSELL of Ipswich, yeoman, do bargain and sell unto said Russell all that messuage or tenement lying in St. Nicholas, Ipswich, and one other piece of land in the same parish, on this condition nevertheless, that if they the said Barnabas and Alice should pay unto said Russell the sum of £60 on the 26th. of Oct. next ensuing, at the mansion house of said Russell in Ipswich, that then this Indenture shall be void and of none effect. Enrolled 7 July 34 Eliz.

* And so for Sessions holden 21 Eliz., 22 Eliz., 23 Eliz., and 24 Eliz., 25 Eliz. and 26 Eliz.

10 Aug. 37 Eliz. Matthew Walton of Ipswich, shoemaker, and Bennonia his wife, in fulfilment of a certain agreement between them and one MARGARET RUSSELL alias RUSTON of Ipswich, widow, grant to the said Margaret Russell the tenement called Gellots, in St. Mary Tower, Ipswich.

20 Dec. 38 Eliz. John Hawys of Thurleston, co. Suffolk, yeoman, and Ann his wife, Joshua Cole of Felixstowe, co. Suffolk, yeoman, and Margaret his wife (one of the daughters and co-heirs of RICHARD RUSTEN alias RUSSELL late of Ipswich, innholder, deceased) bargain and sell to Edmund Bacon and his heirs the reversion of all that messuage which MARGARET RUSTEN alias RUSSELL, widow, late wife of said Richard Rusten alias Russell, holds for the term of her life, situate in the parish of St. Matthew, and now in the occupation of said Margaret.

1 April 40 Eliz. WILLIAM RUSSELL of Ipswich, co. Suffolk, yeoman, and FRANCES his wife, in consideration of the sum of £45 to them in hand paid by William Bucke of Ipswich, merchant, give, bargain, and sell unto the said William Bucke and heirs all those two messuages, houses, gardens, &c., and the half of one well for drawing water, situate in the parish of St. Nicholas in Ipswich; also one other piece of land in said parish; which premises the said Russell lately took of the release of Barnaby Candler of Ipswich, taylor, and Alice his wife by Indenture dated 20 May, 33 Eliz. If said Bucke pays to said Russell the sum of £40 by the Feast of St. John Baptist, 1599, this Indenture shall be void.

10 March 8 Jas. I. JOHN SICKLEMORE of Ipswich, co. Suffolk, draper, and Elizabeth his wife convey a messuage in Ipswich to Henry Crane.

Ipswich: Sessions of the Peace there holden 18 May, 10 Jas. I. ROBERT RUSSELL of Manyngtree, co. Essex, sawyer, and Edmund Cowper of Battisford, co. Suffolk, sawyer, are indicted for that they, on the 27th. April, 10 James I., did with force and arms two "hennes," of the value of eleven pence, of the goods and chattels of a person unknown, at Ipswich, feloniously take and carry away against the King's peace, &c. They are brought to bar and plead guilty. Sentenced to be whipped.

3 June 11 Jas. I. Christopher Lawrence of Aldham, co. Suffolk, yeoman, and Ann his wife give, grant and confirm unto ROBERT RUSSELL of Ipswich, malster, all those two messuages of which one is known by the name of the Swanne and the other is in the occupation of Alice Watwith, widow, situate in the parish of St. Matthew, Ipswich.

16 June 15 Jas. I. Ralph Neale of Ipswich, co. Suffolk, yeoman, and Sarah his wife, late wife of Benjamin Cole deceased, John Cole of Ipswich, tallow chandler, and Martha his wife, and Thomas Lymer of Ipswich, pewterer, and Susan his wife, remise, release and quitclaim unto John Chapman of Ipswich, malster, and MARTHA RUSSELLS of the same town, widow, late wife of THOMAS RUSSELLS deceased, all their claim and interest in that messuage in the occupation of Thomas Bostock, glover, lying in Stoke next Ipswich.

Ipswich: The King's Court of Portmanmote there holden 26 March 16 Jas. I.

Richard Sawer and ROBERT RUSSELL recover against William Mellsoppe one messuage and one garden in Ipswich.

27 Oct. 1621. John Herne of Ipswich, co. Suffolk, butcher, and Rose his wife, and Valentine Herne of Ipswich, shoemaker, and Margery his wife, give, grant and enfeoff unto Elizabeth Darbye of Bramford, co. Suffolk, widow, late wife of John Darbye, gent., deceased, a certain messuage called Gelletts, in the parish of St. Mary Tower, Ipswich, which messuage was lately MARGARET RUSSELL'S.

Ipswich: The King's Court of Portmanmote there holden 17 May, 21 Jas. I.

At this Court came Thomas Newton and JOHN RUSSELL, by John Hawys their attorney, and sought against Barnaby Borroughs, as their right and heritage, by virtue of the King's Brief at Common Law, dated at Westminster the 7th. of May 21 Jas. I., and to the Bailiffs of the aforesaid town directed, two messuages and two gardens with appurtenances in Ipswich, which they claim to hold of the King by free service of one penny per annum for all services, and of which the said Barnaby Burroughs hath them deforced. Whereupon John Hubbard, one of the Sergeants at Mace of the said town, and officer of this Court, is ordered to summon the said Burroughs to appear at the next court, namely on the 20th day of May next ensuing, to answer the aforesaid Thomas Newton and John Russell touching the plea aforesaid. The same day is given to Newton and Russell.

Ipswich: The King's Court of Portmanmote there holden 20 May, 21 Jas. I.

At this Court came Thomas Newton and JOHN RUSSELL by their attorney, and Barnaby Burroughs appeared in his own proper person. And thereupon said Newton and Russell seek against said Burroughs the aforesaid premises as their right and inheritance; who (Burroughs) defends his claim and calls to Warranty one John Bocking. Plaintiffs thereupon seek the said premises against Bocking; who calls to Warranty one Edward Clarke. Plaintiffs thereupon seek against Clarke, who calls to Warranty one John Strutt. Clarke then craves leave to confer with plaintiffs, and afterwards, on the said 20th of May, when called, comes not, but in contempt of Court absents himself, and makes default. The verdict of the Court therefore is, that Newton and Russell shall against Burroughs recover their seisin of the tenements aforesaid.*

Ipswich: The King's Court of Portmanmote there holden 24 May, 21 Jas. I.

Seisin of the aforesaid premises is delivered to Newton and Russell.

* This, known as Recovery at Common Law, was a purely friendly action, brought with a view to settling the title to the premises in question, which had doubtless been purchased of Burroughs by Newton and Russell. It was for many centuries the recognized mode of transferring and confirming title. Its value to us lies in the fact that John Russell, when he brought the action, must have been of "lawful age." J. R. H.

CHANCERY PROCEEDINGS

ONE of the best sources of genealogical information are the Proceedings in Chancery recorded at the Public Record office in London. All Russell suits for the reigns of James I. and Charles I., in this series, were listed up, as given below. The Calendars unfortunately do not indicate the counties to which the suits relate; and as it was not possible, with the means at my disposal, to examine all the suits listed, certain suits containing names common to the county of Suffolk were selected for examination. The suits thus examined are marked with an asterisk on the list. None of them, however, proved to relate to Suffolk or Russell of Ipswich. Probably John Russell's family was not a litigious one, while he himself confined his litigation to the Bailiffs' Court at Ipswich, where, as we learn from the Petty Court Books of that Borough, he was frequently to be found suing out debts.†

RUSSELL OF IPSWICH

GRIMSEY, in his "History of St. Nicholas, Ipswich", mentions a "folio of antiquities touching the history of this borough (Ipswich), that came in 1883 into the possession of the British Museum from the Stowe Collection."

SEARCHED for this volume at the British Museum and found it: "Stowe MS., 881: Antiquarian Collections relating to the borough of Ipswich, co. Suffolk." In the hand of Thomas Martin of Palgrave, Suffolk, folios 11.

SEARCHED also additional MS 19,094, being Condor's Suffolk Families," without result.

SEARCHED also Davy's Suffolk Collections (MS), without result. But note that Davy, who ought to have known better, derives THE RUSSELLS OF OTLEY from THE VERY JOHN RUSSELL OF IPSWICH WHO, TO OUR CERTAIN KNOWLEDGE, EMIGRATED IN THE 1630's TO NEW ENGLAND! In this he is of course entirely wrong, since the wills in our possession (see former batch sent) show that the Russell family was settled at Otley long before 1600.*

* Thomas Whiting, the son, died 1573. His will is in the Prerogative Court .. Reg: Peter, 16. It contains no reference to his sisters, or to Russell. His sister Elizabeth, whom I take to be Elizabeth Whiting wife of William Russell of St. Margaret's, Ipswich, was, of course, dead when the will of Thomas her brother, was made. Thomas Whiting the elder, must have been a man of more than ordinary local note, to have been buried in the church of St. Margaret's. Le Neve, in his "Notes on Ipswich Churches," mentions no monument or inscription to his memory, probably because it was either defaced or lost before Le Neve's time (circa 1660). J. R. H.

THE RUSSELL FAMILY IN AMERICA

AMERICAN INVESTIGATIONS

Genealogy of some of the descendants of John Russell who came to this country in the ship "Defence," and landed at Boston, October 3, 1635.

JOHN RUSSELL, THE EMIGRANT

There is probable evidence that he came from Ipswich in England. The Rev. Thomas Shepard in his Memoir of his own life says, "I departed from the north in a ship laden with coals for Ipswich, * * * whither I came in a disguised manner, with my wife and child and maid; and stayed a while at Mr. Russell's house, another while at Mr. Collins his house, and then went down to Essex, to the town where I had preached, viz. Earles-Colne, to Mr. Richard Harlakenden's house, where I lived privately." Young, who annotated Shepard's Memoir, says, "Perhaps John Russell, who was admitted a freeman at the same time with Shepard and Harlakenden, and was a prominent citizen of Cambridge." *

John Russell was born in England about 1597, and came to Cambridge, Massachusetts, October 3, 1635, in the ship "Defence," Capt. Bostock, with his two sons John and Philip.†

His wife had probably died before his emigration, as there is no record of her in Cambridge, and no mention of her decease, or of her name anywhere. He was made freeman March 3, 1636, surveyor of arms 1638, selectman 1642 and 1643, clerk of the writs‡ 1645 and constable 1648. He remained in Cam-

* Chronicles of the First Planters of the Colony of Massachusetts Bay, p. 531.

† "He went out in the same ship with Harlakenden and Shepard." Letter of Mr. Hutchinson, Nov. 17, 1908.

‡ Every town might nominate a Clerk of the Writs, to be allowed by the shire court, to grant summons and attachments in civil actions. History of Hadley, by Sylvester Judd, 1905, p. 70.

Some other offices held by John Russell during his residence in Cambridge were as follows:

Oct. 1, 1639, he was appointed custodian of lost goods "vnto whose howse [the right owners] shall constantly Repair for all such goods."

bridge* until his son, Rev. John Russell, was chosen as the pastor of the church at Wethersfield, 1648-'49, when the father and the two sons removed to that place.† He was made free-man in Connecticut, May 17, 1655.‡

The naming of the two towns of Hadley and Hatfield is somewhat confirmatory that he came from Ipswich in England or thereabout, both places being near to his former residence.

Rev. Henry Smith was the first pastor of the church in Wethersfield. He died in 1648. Mr. Nathaniel Goodwin says, "Of his first wife nothing is known; of his second wife, her Christian name only, which was Dorathy.

"After his death, she was married to Mr. John Russell, of Wethersfield, father of Rev. John Russell, jun., successor of her first husband, in the ministry at Wethersfield, and afterwards first minister of Hadley, Mass. She was his second wife," and they occupied the homestead of the deceased clergyman.

It is not apparent that Mr. John Russell, Sen., was in Hadley in 1659, but he probably was in 1660, for he was made

Nov. 8, 1641, he was elected one of the three surveyors for the town's land.

Nov. 11, 1644, he was chosen one of three to enter or record the alienation of lands.

In 1645 and 1646, he was elected a surveyor of land.

Dec. 21, 1648, he was chosen on a committee of five to examine the old records relating to the cow common, copy and complete them. Henry Dunster, then President of Harvard College, is named first of the five.

* In Cambridge he "resided at the northwest corner of Holyoke and Mount Auburn streets, in a house purchased of Daniel Abbott." Paige, History of Cambridge, p. 646.

† It is doubtful if John Russell Sen.^r came to Wethersfield before 1651, as he was appointed, Jan. 13th of that year, by the townsmen of Cambridge, "to take notice of all defects for want of Ladders and present the same to the Townsmen." This appears to be his last appointment to office in Cambridge. See Records of the Town and Selectmen of Cambridge, 1630-1730, p. 90. E. S. W.

Mr. Judd says, "In a list of distributions, he is placed at £150."

Mr. Judd says, "The early settlers were generally thrifty, substantial men. They all had lands and derived the greater part of their support from their lands and labors. Most of them were farmers, as they had been in the towns from which they came.

There were artificers, and a few that had been in trade. Several left buildings and lands in Connecticut. * * * John Russell, senior, was a glazier, a trade that required some skill in the days of diamond glass."

For all that appears, he lived a quiet and enjoyable life in Wethersfield and in Hadley.

He was a juryman at the "County Co'te" in Northampton, in 1662 and 1665. On March 31, 1663, "Mr. Samuel Smith of Hadley being presented this Co'te, was chosen for Lieutenant for the Trayn band of that Town, & Mr. John Russell Sen. being p'sented as chosen for Clerk of that Band, & Richard Goodman being p'sented as chosen for their Serjeant. They were all of them allowed & appointed of by the Co'te for those places & offices; & Mr. Russell took his oath for the charge of this office." §

DESCENDANTS OF THE REV. JOHN RUSSELL, OF CAMBRIDGE, MASS., WETHERSFIELD, CONN., AND HADLEY, MASS.

Rev. John Russell, son of John, was born in 1626. He graduated at Harvard College in 1645, and it is supposed that he remained at Cambridge, where he is reported "to have done some service" until he was called to Wethersfield, Connecticut, "succeeding Mr. Smith in the ministry of 1650 as is supposed," though Judge Adams says, "that the records do not show the date."

He married (1) June 28, 1649, Mary Talcott, born in England, the only daughter and eldest child of the Worshipful John and Dorothy (Mott) Talcott, of Hartford. This may have brought him to the notice of the church in Wethersfield, and led to his settlement there. He was made freeman May 16, 1650.*

Judge Adams says further, "that in 1650 he seems to be recognized as the minister. He was an able preacher, but unfortunately for him, as had been the case with his predecessor, dissensions arose in his flock, which compelled him, with a considerable part of his congregation to leave the Wethersfield church, to form a new one at Norwottuck, afterwards Hadley, Mass."

"The transfer seems to have been fully accomplished in May, 1659, as at that date the Wethersfield record says that 'M' Russell hath sent for his church to Norwotucke to doe some church act.' " * The "dissensions" existed before Mr. Russell went to Wethersfield, and very likely so worried Rev. Mr. Smith that he died in 1648. Like troubles existed in Hartford. These "dissensions" worried others also, and the General Assembly appointed commissioners at various times, to compose these differences, and were as successful as most such efforts are in religious matters, where both parties are very confident that they are wholly in the right. So for the purpose of living in peace, a party in Hartford, and a majority of the church members in Wethersfield, with Mr. Russell, determined to remove from the jurisdiction of Connecticut into that of Massachusetts. They obtained permission from the General Court of that colony which doubtless was glad to receive so goodly a company of settlers. This was in May, 1658. An agreement was entered into in Hartford, April 18, 1659, of those promising to remove.

A plantation was laid out on both sides of the Connecticut river above Northampton, and a few of the "engagers" removed there in the latter part of the above-named year. They were followed by others in the succeeding spring.

The Indian name of the place was Norwottuck, which was afterwards called Hadley.

"Mr. Russell at Wethersfield was ardent and resolute, and sometimes indiscreet, and he had warm friends and powerful opposers. At Hadley, he appears to have been an active and faithful pastor. As a preacher, there is little known respecting him. He preached the Election Sermon at Boston, in May, 1665, from Psalms cxii:6.† Most of his letters in this History were written in the time of the Indian war, and some in great haste. ‡ His firmness and decision of character are seen in his persevering efforts in favor of The Hopkins School. His fearlessness and constancy were manifested in his protection and concealment for many years, of two of the judges of King Charles I., Whalley and Goffe, whom he truly viewed as sufferers in the cause of civil liberty.

"New England people generally were friendly to the judges, and believed that Charles I. was justly sentenced to death, but not many would have been willing to hazard life and property by placing themselves in the dangerous situation of Mr. Russell.

"An inventory of the estate of Rev. John Russell was taken at Hadley, Jan. 10, 1693. His son, Rev. Jonathan Russell, of Barnstable, was admitted as administrator, in Suffolk county, Jan. 17, and a summary of the inventory, and a settlement of the estate, were recorded in the Boston Probate Office. After paying the debts, funeral charges, expense of tomb-stones for Mr. Russell and a former wife, and delivering to his widow Phebe Russell, 106£, most of which she brought with her, there remained for the two sons, Jonathan and Samuel, £830, of which, 305£ in real estate was subject to the widow's dower.

"The appraisement was considerably above money prices. Mr. Russell's kindness to the judges did not diminish his estate."

"In the inventory, are three negroes — a man, woman and child, valued at 60£." *

"The salary of Mr. Russell was paid in winter wheat at 3s. 3d., peas at 2s. 6d., Indian corn at 2s., and other things proportionally. The cash price of wheat did not exceed 2s. 6d., and corn 1s. 6d. per bushel at Hadley. Yet the sum of 90£, or even 80£, as Mr. Russell received it, was an adequate and honorable salary, and so esteemed. He educated two sons and left a good estate." *

On page 24, reverse end, of the volume entitled "Town Lands, Births, Marriages & Deaths, Town of Hartford, 1639-1764," it is stated that "M^r John Russell was maryed To Mary Tayllcott," June 28, 1649, and in the record of baptisms of the First Church of Christ, Hartford, it is stated that "John [✓]Rusell, son of Mr. John Rusell [was] bapt. Sept. 23," 1650. There is no record at Wethersfield. The occasion was, no doubt, the making of considerable merriment at the dwelling of the Worshipful grandfather. The son died at Hadley, Jan. 20, 1670. Of the mother's death there is no record to be found, but probably she died not long after confinement.

There was another son, Jonathan, born to Rev. John Russell in Wethersfield, according to Savage, Sept. 18, 1655, and the supposition has been that this was the son of a second wife, although there was no record of the death of the first. In the Talcott Genealogy it is stated that Mary (Talcott) Russell died sometime before 1655, and the remarriage of Rev. John Russell is accepted, but no record of this has been discovered.

Thanks to the investigations of Mr. Frank Farnsworth Starr we now learn that John Russell was married to Rebecca Newberry of Windsor before 1652, and the evidence is curious, and is not from any public record. An old ledger kept by Henry Wolcott of that town, now in the library of the Connecticut Historical Society, was found to be a receptacle for very diverse matters. In it he records a sale of apples to "Brother Russell" in 1651.

Henry Wolcott married Sarah Newberry, Nov. 8, 1641, Daniel Clark married Mary Newberry June 13, 1644, and John Russell married Rebecca Newberry. They might well call themselves brothers, and it also shows that in 1651 John Russell was married to Rebecca Newberry, and this, as far as can be learned, is the only record concerning the marriage. While the record stands for the year only, viz., 1651, yet it naturally stands for the time of the gathering of the apples; this would be about the first or middle of October. Supposing it to have been at the first of this month, it would place the date of the marriage between this time and the death of Mary (Talcott) Russell. Now the time of her death and the place of her burial are not on record. But it is very probable that residing so near to Hartford and so near to her parents, she would naturally be buried in the lot of her father near the First Church. And this is more probably the fact, because the young son, John, had been baptized in that church, Sept. 23, 1650. There is, I think, a reasonable probability that she died not long after confinement.

Taking the date which we do know, Sept., 1650, and the other which we know in part, 1651, and supposedly nearly correct, we have a period of time of about one year. So I think that we may consider the time of the marriage of Rev. John Russell and Rebecca Newberry as occurring in the early autumn of 1651, about a year after the death of the first wife; a short time for mourning perhaps, but often known to be much shorter.

In the first volume of the Windsor Town Records there is entered, by Benjamin Newberry, the purchase from his brother-in-law John Russell, "Pastor of Wethersfeild one pecl of Land ouer the great Riuer," but there is no date attached to the transfer.*

This tract, extending east three miles to the wilderness, belonged to Rebecca Newberry, and so fell into the hands of Mr. Russell. The absence of date is the more provoking as the record stands between two other transfers which are dated.

It has been questioned whether Jonathan Russell, born in Wethersfield, Sept. 18, 1655, was the son of Mary (Talcott) Russell or of Rebecca (Newberry) Russell. As has been shown above, we now know that Mr. Russell was married to the latter in 1651, and so it is fair to conclude that the son Jonathan was the son of John and Rebecca Newberry, as has been intimated by Mr. Starr.

When John Talcott, the father of Mary Talcott, made his will August 12, 1659, he said, "I give vnto my Grand Child John Russell, at the age of twenty one yeres twenty pounds: to be payd in curent cuntry pay". And he adds a codicil of the same date: "My will is, that if my Grand Child John Russell shall departt this Liufe before he atayne the age of twenty one yeres that then twenty pounds be payd vnto Jonathan Russell at the fore sayd age: & if Jonathan Russell atayne not the fore sayd age then it be payd my sonn Russell, witch is an Isho of all acoempts in referenc to my Daughters portion hom Mr. Russell Maryed." *

Now this grandchild John (Talcott) Russell died at Hadley January 20, 1670, so not having arrived at the age of 21 years, the bequest fell to Jonathan Russell.

As one of the overseers of his father's will, John Talcott makes the following entry in his Diary: "1676, Nov. 23, Cousin Jonathan Russell is D^r so much pr order of my Hon^d father Talcott's Last Will to be payd to him when he shall attayn ye age of 21 years, £20."

Before closing this sketch of the Rev. John Russell, a few lines from Sibley's Harvard Graduates should be added:

"Russell lived harmoniously with his people till the latter part of his life, when some of his friends became alienated from him on account of the active part he took in relation to the Hopkins donation, of which a portion was appropriated to Hadley.

"The majority of the inhabitants differed from him. After the final decision in 1687, which was in accordance with his views, the town voted him only seventy pounds annually during his life, though if he retained the use of the town's land, which is not improbable, he received eighty pounds. But no complaint from him, or notice of troubles between him and the town, appears in the records. After his decease, his widow and sons claimed forty pounds 'for what was abated in the rate bills, several years, without Mr. Russel's consent'; the town voted thirty-five pounds, and the matter was adjusted to the satisfaction of both parties." *

Rev. Jonathan Russell, eldest son of the Rev. John and Rebecca (Newberry) Russell, born September 18, 1655, graduated at Harvard in 1675, and took his Master's degree in 1675.

His father, writing the Rev. Increase Mather from Hadley, April 18, 1677, in mentioning "the contagion and frequently deadly disease among us," goes on to say, "I had a very sickly winter my selfe, being weakly and full of sore paine tho spared as to the comon disease."

"My wife also grown very crazy, & fallen into a languishing state, so that I fear her recovery. Lett us not faile of your prayers that all may work together for good at last.

"My son hath beene at home this winter; and beene a comfort to us. I trust the Lord hath drawn and engaged his hart to himself." *

When in October, 1680, the General Court of Massachusetts ordered, "that Majo^r John Pynchon doe forthuith, and wth all expedition, repajre to Albany, and desier the advice & assistance of S^r Edmond Andros, Governo^r of New Yorke, and endeavor to prevent the insolencjes & outrages that haue of late beene perpetrated by the Macquas [Mohawks] in these parts of the country," it was included in the order that "The charge of this affajre [is] to be supplied by the Tresurer, provided M^r Phillip Smith or M^r Jnth Russell, or whom Majo^r Pynchon shall choose, be the men." †

He was ordained pastor of the church in Barnstable, Massachusetts, September 19, 1683, his father-in-law, Rev. Joshua Moody, one of the most prominent divines of the day, preaching the ordination sermon. This was his sole pastorate and here he died February 21, 1711, the inscription of his gravestone reading as follows:

"Hic inhuma[n]tur corpus Reverendi Domini Jonathan Russelli, Episcopi Ecclesiae Barnstabliensis Qui animam Spiravit, February 21, 1710-11 and etatis suae 56."

Judge Sewall, in his diary, when noting his death, speaks of him as "an Orthodox Useful Man."

He married, about 1680, Martha Moody, daughter of the Rev. Joshua and Martha (Collins) Moody of Portsmouth, New Hampshire, who died September 28, 1729, aged about 67. "She was a discreet, pious gentlewoman." ‡ at Hadley. On the 12th of September, 1687, he was called to the pastorate of the church at Branford, Connecticut, and there he served for the remainder of his life. "He became the second father of the town. His ministry, peaceful and prosperous, was prolonged forty-four years, though he was disabled from preaching during the last six years of his life."

"Tradition makes it probable that the proposed meeting [for considering the establishing of Yale College] took place in the south parlor of the house of the Rev. Samuel Russel, and that the few then assembled, by engaging to give books from their scanty libraries as a nucleus of College property, constituted themselves the founders of the institution, and in this capacity presented their petition for a charter to the General Assembly the next week" * [second week of October, 1701]. He was one of the most active supporters of the project and became one of the trustees of the new college.

In May, 1699, he preached the election sermon and received the thanks of the General Assembly.

Rev. Samuel Russell married Abigail Whiting, born 1666, daughter of the Rev. John and Sybil (Collins) Whiting of Hartford, Connecticut.

He died June 25, 1731. His widow Abigail, died May 7, 1733.

DESCENDANTS OF PHILIP RUSSELL OF HATFIELD, MASS., SON OF JOHN RUSSELL, THE EMIGRANT

30

Philip Russell, second son of John Russell the Emigrant, was born in England, went to Wethersfield, Connecticut,* with his father and brother, and within a few years after their removal to Hadley, he followed, locating permanently on the west side of the Connecticut River, in what is now the town of Hatfield, Massachusetts.

By trade Philip Russell was a glazier and among the "Town depts," December 5, 1681, is this entry: †

"To Philip Russell

ffor mending the town house glase	00—03—10
ffor mending the meting house glase	00—03—06 "

He held a number of public offices, being chosen January 17, 1677-'78 a ratemaker; the following year a selectman as well as in December, 1686; a constable in December, 1683, and at "a Countie Corte Holden at Northampton on y^e Last tuesday in March 1690," Philip Russell was appointed "Clarke of y^e Writts" for Hatfield. That he did not lack interest in church affairs is shown by the fact that in June, 1679, he was chosen one of a committee of nine "to go and acquaint Mr. Wise what the town would do on condition he settle in the work of the ministry." ‡

Philip Russell died May 19, 1693.

* Philip Russell evidently had no separate residence while living in Wethersfield; he did own, however, 48 acres of land at Naubuc, now a part of Glastonbury, given to him by his father, which he deeded to his father, who conveyed it the same day, May 13, 1669, to William Miller of Northampton, Mass. Wethersfield Town Votes, No. 1, p. 81; Ibid., No. 2, p. 163.

John Russell, eldest son and child of Philip and Elizabeth (Terry) Russell, was born January 2, 1667, at Hatfield, Massachusetts.

He probably removed from Hatfield to Wethersfield, Connecticut, about the time of his marriage, on the 9th of April, 1691, to Martha Graves, daughter of Nathaniel Graves of that town.

At any rate, on November 9, 1692, he bought of Daniel Graves, of Springfield, Massachusetts, his wife's cousin, 49 acres of land in Wethersfield, including a home lot of 3 acres on the east side of Broad street, and 6 other parcels of land; and thereafter he resided in Wethersfield.

As early as 1703, when he was 36 years old, he was chosen constable, an office of great influence and dignity in those days.

December 24, 1712, he was elected one of the school committee; the next year, a surveyor of highways, holding the same office ten years later.

December 13, 1714, he was chosen on a committee to repair the "breaches of the meeting house," and July 14, 1715, on a committee, with Benjamin Churchill and Samuel Wright, to build the pews, the first to be placed in the church at Wethersfield.

He also served on committees to lay out highways and for the exchange of lands.

In middle life he bore the title of "Sergeant." His death occurred January 16, 1746, two weeks after his 79th birthday. Ten days before his death he executed his will which is in the handwriting of Col. John Chester of Wethersfield, and reads as follows:

In the Name of God Amen I John Rufsel Sen^r of Wethersfield in the County of Hartford being old & full of Days and Sick and Weak in Body tho' of Sound Mind, having given my Soul to God and my Body to the Earth hoping thro' the Merits of Christ for the pardon of my Sins & a Refurrection to a blefſed Immortality, my Will as to my temporal Eftate is as followeth viz^t

Imprimis. My Just Debts and Funeral Expences being first paid by my Executors, I Give to my beloved Wife my great Bible. I also give to my faid Wife the Uſe and Improvement of all my Moveable Eftate (after my Just Debts are all paid out of it) During the whole term that She shall Continue my Widow. I also Give to my faid Wife the Uſe and Improvement of my now Dwelling-Houſe and Homelott & the Uſe & Improvement of all my other lands during the time She shall Continue my Widow.

I also give to my Sons John Jonathan and Stephen Ruſſel all my Real Estate my Dwelling-Houſe and Homelott and all my other lands to be Equally Divided between them upon and immediately after the Marriage of my faid Wife, and provided she shall Remain my Widow during the full term of her natural Life then I Give and Bequeath the faid Houſe and Homelot and all my other lands to my faid three Sons to be divided as aforeſ^d, upon the Deceafe of my faid Wife, to be to them my Said Sons, their Heirs and Aſſigns forever

I also Give to my Three Daughters Each of them a large Pewter Platter to be receiv^d by them upon my Deceafe.

I also Give to my faid Daughters all my Moveable Estate which I before gave to my Wife during the time

She shall Continue my Widow to be divided between them in Equal Proportion upon my Wifes decease or Marriage with any other person.

I Constitute and Appoint my beloved Wife and Eldest Son John Rufsel to be Exectuors of this my laft Will and Teftament, Hereby Revoking all former and other Teftaments by me made and Ratifying and Confirming this and no other to be my last Will and Teftament.

In Witnefs whereof I have hereunto Set my hand and Seal the 6th Day of January Anno Domini 1745/6.

John Russell married (1) April 9, 1691, Martha Graves, born July 15, 1667, daughter of Nathaniel and Martha (Betts) Graves of Wethersfield, Connecticut, who died July 15, 1740. He married (2) November 20, 1740, Susannah Nichols of Middletown, Connecticut, where he seems to have died. She survived him and married (2) November 15, 1751, Captain Daniel Messenger of Harwinton, Connecticut.

Stephen Russell, youngest son and child of John and Martha (Graves) Russell was born October 30, 1710, and married (1) May 17, 1734, Ruth Morton, born May 27, 1707, daughter of Thomas and Comfort (Deming, Beckley) Morton of Rocky Hill, Connecticut. In a little account book, still preserved, that belonged to Thomas Morton, under the date May 14, 1734, is "An account of what my daughter Ruth had to be accounted to her for part of her portion," and it specifies a case of drawers, round table, square table, trunk, pot, iron, brass kettles, frying pan, warming pan, brass skillet, pewter, calico curtains, blankets, coverlets, two feather beds, bolsters and pillows, kitchen ware, a great wheel and a cow and a calf.

After bearing him seven children, his wife Ruth died November 14, 1747, and Stephen Russell married (2) September 14, 1749, Abigail Wright, born March 9, 1720, daughter of Deacon Benjamin and Hannah (Holmes) Wright, who long survived him, dying October 4, 1805.

Stephen Russell lived an uneventful life in what is now the town of Rocky Hill, where he died probably early in the year 1761, as the inventory of his estate was taken the 10th of February, 1761.

His estate was worth about £600, more than two-thirds of which was in real estate as follows:

21 acres of Land on the East Side of the Home-
lot at £5/15 ^s per acre.....	120—15— 0
18 acres & a Rood By the House at £7/10 ^s per acre	136—17— 6
the House £15 the old Barn 3£.....	18—00— 0

about five acres of Land ouer the Ledge..... 20—00— 0 ten acres of Land west of the House Bought of Cadey 35—00— 0
 thirteen acres, 2 Roods and 21 rods of Land in the Late Divission at £6 per acre.....81—15— 9 one peice East of morris his Lot Containing 2 acres 06—00— 0
 one peice a Littel Northward about $\frac{1}{2}$ an acre... 1—12— 6

Below the footing of the inventory entered in the Hartford Probate Records appears this interesting item:

“To a Right of land In York gouernment Called the half moon ” *..... 50— 0— 0

After the debts and charges had been paid a distribution of the estate was made March 22, 1762, by Gideon Goodrich and Elias Williams as follows:

John Russell, second son and third child of Stephen and Abigail (Wright) Russell, born January 3, 1754, at Stepney, now the town of Rocky Hill, Connecticut, was a tanner, currier and shoemaker. He removed to Litchfield, Connecticut, where he married September 1, 1777, Mary Woodruff, daughter of Nathaniel and Mary (Kilbourn) Woodruff of that town. He enlisted in the war of the Revolution and served as a drummer at Bunker Hill. He was also at the battles of Long Island and White Plains.

On his return from the war he remained in Litchfield until 1800, when he started for the West, settling in the town of Owego, Tioga County, New York. The country was so new and the roads were so rough, that the family were about five weeks making the journey.

In 1804, because of sickness, they returned to Connecticut, remaining in Burlington until 1814, when they removed to Pennsylvania, locating in Orwell township, Bradford County, near Orwell Hill on what has since been known as the Dominick farm. His wife died January 1, 1816, at the home of her son Henry in Burlington, Connecticut, and after her death he resided with his son Henry in Windham a few miles north of Orwell, Bradford County, Pennsylvania, where he died August 31, 1820.

John Russell, fifth son and seventh child of John and Mary (Woodruff) Russell, was born June 9, 1790, in Litchfield, Connecticut.

His father with his large family, removed to Owego, Tioga County, New York, in 1800, and at that place the son "learned the art of printing of John Leonard." About 1810 he came to Hartford, Connecticut, and engaged in the printing business for many years.

In the Hartford directory for 1828, his place of business is given as 14 Trumbull street. On the 23d of January, 1824, he became associated with Benjamin H. Norton, Esq., in publishing the "Hartford Times," the foremost Democratic paper in the State.

Mr. Norton retired on the 30th of July, 1828, but Mr. Russell continued as proprietor until November 18, 1837, when he retired. During the years 1839 to 1846 inclusive, he was surveyor of customs for Hartford.

In the latter years of his residence in Hartford he lived on the so-called "Windsor Road," in the haunts of his wife's ancestors.

In the spring of 1847 he leased his place on the Windsor Road, for a term of three years to Alfred E. Burr, who later became widely known, not only as publisher of the "Hartford Times," but also as a leader among the Democrats of Connecticut.

At the expiration of the lease he sold the place to Mr. Burr. For a while he stayed in Windham, Pennsylvania, and then removed to Janesville, Wisconsin, where he bought a farm. He was postmaster of West Janesville at the time of his death, which occurred January 25, 1856.

A week later the "Hartford Times" contained an editorial on his death, which closed with these words:

"He had many old friends in Connecticut as well as at the West who will read, with saddened hearts, this brief notice of his decease."

John Russell was twice married. First at Hartford, Connecticut, May 15, 1814, to Martha Wadsworth of Hartford, born March 7, 1791, the daughter of Gurdon and Mehitabel (Wright) Wadsworth, who died January 6, 1847, and was buried in the old North Cemetery, Hartford. Second, at Windham, Pennsylvania, April 10, 1850, to his first wife's sister, Lydia Wright Wadsworth, born January 23, 1788, who died at Janesville, Wisconsin, October 22, 1872.

Gurdon Wadsworth Russell, eldest child of John and Martha (Wadsworth) Russell, was born April 10, 1815, at Hartford, Connecticut.

His education was at the district schools, the Hopkins Grammar school, and at the school of Rev. Van R. Osborn in Manchester, and at Washington, now Trinity College where he graduated 1834, and he is now at this date of writing,* the oldest living alumnus of the college.

He studied medicine with Dr. Amariah Brigham of Hartford, and graduated from the Medical Institution of Yale College in 1837, and is now the oldest living of the Medical Department. He commenced practice in Hartford in 1838, and has resided here ever since.

While he retired from the activities of his profession some twenty-five years since, he has still been pretty actively engaged in various pursuits, being still a Medical Director in the Ætna Life Insurance Company since 1850, and trusts he has been of benefit in some other institutions also.

Julius Russell, seventh son of John and Mary (Woodruff) Russell, was born October 16, 1796, at Litchfield, Connecticut. In early life he was a mason. Later, when in 1821 he removed to Windham, Pennsylvania, he engaged in farming. He also kept a general store there for several years. In 1842 he was elected register and recorder of the Orphans' Court of Bradford County. He kept an open house and hospitable home where were often congregated large family parties, sometimes more than fifty of the family connections dining at the same time. He married, July 24, 1823,* Eliza Seymour, born August 10, 1797,† daughter of Richard and Rachel (Lamb) Seymour of Hartford, Connecticut, who died at the home of her son Chauncey in Towanda, Pennsylvania, January 29, 1882. George Washington Russell, youngest son of John and Mary (Woodruff) Russell, was born September 21, 1800, and married at Waterloo, New York, June 27, 1826, Susan Bear, born June 30, 1806, daughter of John Bear, who died October 1, 1878. He died November 2, 1870, at Gratiot, Wisconsin.

For eleven years, until 1840, he lived in Windham, Pennsylvania, and then, until 1856, in Ulster, Pennsylvania. In that year he removed to Gratiot, Wisconsin, where he owned large tracts of land, enough indeed, to furnish each of his ten children with a farm. While he lived in Ulster and Windham, he was active in all the enterprises of a new country, and was honored with many public offices.

THE WADSWORTH LINE OF DR. GURDON WADSWORTH RUSSELL THROUGH HIS MOTHER, MARTHA WADSWORTH
RUSSELL, BORN MARCH 7, 1791,
WHO DIED JANUARY 6, 1847

WILLIAM WADSWORTH

Among the thirty-three men that embarked in the ship "Lion," June 22, 1632, from London for New England, was William Wadsworth. Sailing with him were such men as John Talcott, William Goodwin, James Olmsted, John White, Nathaniel Richards, William Lewis, Robert Bartlett, Nicholas Clarke, Seth Grant and Edward Elmer, who were to be among the honored pioneers that founded Hartford, Connecticut.

The ship arrived at Boston, September 16, 1632, and William Wadsworth settled in Cambridge, Massachusetts, where he lived on the westerly side of Holyoke street, near Harvard street.

"Att A Gennerall Meeting of the whole Towne," held February 3, 1634-'35, "Itt was Agreed vppon by a Joynt Consent that 7 menn should bee Choffen to doe the whole buffines of the Towne." * Among the seven chosen that day to serve as townsmen or selectmen, was William Wadsworth, his associates being John Haynes, Esq., Mr. Simon Bradstreet, John Talcott, William Westwood, John White and James Olmsted, constable.

His stay in Cambridge, however, was brief. He was of that company that removed to Hartford "in the great exodus" headed by Thomas Hooker in June, 1636, and there he soon made his influence felt in public affairs.

He was a selectman of Hartford as early as 1640.† He was also chosen to that office January 22, 1642-'43, January 27, 1647-'48, February 6, 1654-'55, February 11, 1660-'61,

* The Records of the Town of Cambridge, 1630-1703, p. 11.

† Collections of the Connecticut Historical Society, Vol. VI, Hartford Town Votes, p. 7.

and February 13, 1672-'73. On the 4th of February, 1650-'51, the name of William Wadsworth was selected "to be presented to the Court," as that of constable for the north side.

At a town meeting held June 14, 1660, he was chosen commissioner with the co-operation of Samuel Wyllys, Thomas Welles and Thomas Bunce, to make the list "of the estat of the towne."

He was again elected commissioner, and one of the "list and rate makers," March 9, 1662-'63, and list and rate maker, February 166[7]-'6[8].

He was frequently summoned to serve on committees entrusted with weighty affairs, and to quote the language of Savage, he lived "in the highest esteem, no man ever more often chosen representative, for between October 1656 and May 1675, hardly a single year missed his services." *

The name of his first wife is unknown and likewise the date of her death. He married (2) July 2, 1644, Elizabeth Stone, baptized October 21, 1621, sister of the Rev. Samuel Stone, the friend and associate of Thomas Hooker.†

Mrs. Elizabeth (Stone) Wadsworth died probably late in 1681, as the inventory of her estate was taken in December of that year.

The precise date of William Wadsworth's death is unknown, but it must have occurred between May 16 and October 16, 1675.‡

* As a matter of fact, not a single year missed his services as representative or deputy to the General Court. Out of sixty-two sessions held between October, 1656, and May, 1675, and including those, he was present at all but two — those of May 21, 1657, and October 3, 1661.

† See will of the Rev. Samuel Stone on file at the Probate Office, Hartford, Conn.

‡ Early Connecticut Probate Records, Vol. I, p. 246. The date of his death can probably be more closely approximated, for though he was a deputy to the General Court held in May, 1675, his name is missing in the list of the deputies to the General Court called to meet July 9, 1675. Very possibly he was dead or too ill to be chosen, at that time.

Joseph Wadsworth, second son and third child of William and Elizabeth (Stone) Wadsworth, was born about 1647.*

He was of an impetuous, aggressive nature, courageous and resolute, and early a leader among the younger set of Hartford.

As a young man he must have taken an active interest in military affairs, for

"AT A MEETING OF THE COUNCILL, HELD AT HARTFORD, SEPT^r 6th, 1675."

"The Councill ordered that Sarj^t Joseph Wadsworth should take under his conduct twenty men, and pass up to Westfield, to assist them against the common enemy."†

A few months later, on the 14th of January, 1675-'76, the Council, when appointing John Stanley captain "of part of

* An affidavit made by Joseph Wadsworth in support of a petition of James Mun to the General Assembly at its session of May, 1721, gives the approximate date of his birth.

It reads, "These may Informe y^e Honoured General Court that my Hon^d Father haveing been a first planter of Hartford I in my youth who am Now 74 years old did often hear my s^d Father say that those Lots Caled the Soldiers field was the Lots Granted to y^e Paquoit soldiers only & y^t for there Good service in said warr. Joseph Wadsworth."

Document 217, Vol. III, "Towns and Lands," in the archives, State Library, Hartford.

A careful examination of the original affidavit reveals the very interesting fact that at first the age of Joseph Wadsworth was put at 75, the figure 4 having been written subsequently over the 5.

While it is hazardous to draw any inferences since the affidavit is not in the hand of Joseph Wadsworth, it certainly eliminates 1648 as his birth year.

† Colonial Records of Connecticut, 1665-1677, p. 363.

the forces belonging to Hartford County," selected Joseph Wadsworth "to be his Liuetenant." *

At a session of the General Court held in September, 1689, he was chosen lieutenant "for the traine band of the north side of Hartford," † and at a session of the Court held in October 1697, "Capt^a Joseph Wadsworth was by this Court confirmed Capt^a of the train band in Hartford on the north side of the riverett" ‡

He had been called "Captain" some years earlier, as in the list of deputies to the General Court in October, 1694, the first name is that of "Capt. Jos. Wadsworth."

For several years, intermittently, he was elected townsman and doubtless displayed his characteristic vigor in the discharge of that office. While his services as deputy or representative were not so continuous or so extensive as his father's, his name appears on the records during a period of thirty years, from May, 1685, to May, 1715.

The sessions, in detail, at which he was a deputy were those of May and October, 1685, May and October, 1694, May and October, 1695, October, 1699, May and October, 1703, May and October, 1704, October, 1705, October, 1706, April and May, 1707, and May, 1715. A few allusions in the records indicate that, as deputy, he spoke his mind freely and sometimes intemperately, with utter disregard to the consequences.

At the October session of 1703, for using "reproachfull words" against "William Pitkin Esq^r, Assistant," and also Under date of Oct. 15, 1688, John Allyn, Secretary of the Colony, wrote Gov. Andros, "I also make bold to inform your Excelency that if you please to make Lat Joseph Wadsworth Leiutenant of the company of the North side of or Towne & Mr. Niccols of the Sowth side, it will be most accomadating to the people as their habitations are settled."

for casting forth "reproachfull expressions against divers members of the Assembly," he was sentenced to pay a fine of ten pounds.*

And during the last session that he attended, in May, 1715, he was publicly admonished by Gov. Saltonstall for a "discourse of a seditious nature and tendency," delivered on the 17th of that month.†

Only once does he appear to have been a member of the Council, and then toward the end of his life. At a meeting of the Governor and Council held at Hartford, August 16, 1726, Capt. Joseph Wadsworth was present as a member, and this is the last mention of him in the Colonial Records.‡

It is unnecessary here to go into the details of the dramatic incident of the hiding of the charter which has made the name of Joseph Wadsworth famous in the annals of Colonial Connecticut.

That he performed a daring deed on that fateful evening of October 31, 1687, cannot be questioned, even if strange incongruities beset the scene with mystery.

Many years afterwards when he himself was a deputy to the General Assembly for the last time, in May, 1715, his valiant exploit was recognized by the Colony as follows:—"Upon consideration of the faithful and good service of Capt. Joseph Wadsworth, of Hartford, especially in securing the Duplicate Charter of this Colony in a very troublesome season when our constitution was struck at, and in safely keeping and preserving the same ever since unto this day: This Assembly do, as a token of their grateful resentment of such his faithful and good service, grant him out of the Colony treasury the sum of twenty shillings." §

* Colonial Records of Connecticut, 1689-1706, p. 453.

† Ibid., 1706-1716, pp. 492 and 493.

‡ Ibid., 1726-1735, p. 52.

§ Ibid., 1706-1716, p. 507.

It is strange that the death of such a patriot is not recorded, but it probably took place in 1730, as his will was proved March 2, 1730-'31.*

Joseph Wadsworth married (1) Elizabeth Talcott, † born February 21, 1656, daughter of Lieut. Col. John and Helena (Wakeman) Talcott, who died October 26, 1710. He married (2) Mary Blackleach, widow of both Thomas Welles and John Olcott, and daughter of John and Elizabeth Blackleach of Wethersfield, Connecticut, who survived him.

* Early Connecticut Probate Records, Vol. III, p. 122.

† There are several reasons for believing that Elizabeth Talcott, and not Elizabeth Barnard, was the mother of his children. In March, 1753, Aaron Cook and his wife Hannah (Wadsworth) Cook of Harwinton, conveyed to Joseph Wadsworth Jr., Daniel Wadsworth and William Wadsworth, all right pertaining to them "by the Right of Our Hon^d Mother Elizabeth Wadsworth in the five mile so called on the East side of the great River." Hartford Town Records, No. 8, p. 424.

That Lt. Col. John Talcott possessed lands in the above described tract, appears from a statement in the inventory of his estate taken Nov. 3, 1689, of his owning

"2 prsells Land Giuen by Jos[h]ua Sachem And Capt Sanupp nott yett deuided."

On the other hand, Bartholomew Barnard left by will only £20 to his daughter Elizabeth.

Still weightier evidence is presented in the petition of Joseph Talcott to the General Court, dated May 15, 1691. In it he recites that "Y^e Honourd father of your poor petitioner departed this Life upon y^e 23^d day of July 1688 haueing made no writen will for y^e setelment of his personall estate this Colony then being under y^e Gouvermt of his Excellency Sr Edmon Andros K^t aplycation was made to him by my brother in law Lift Jos Wardsworth: for leeters of Adminiistration upon y^e s^d estate etc." Document 47, Vol. IV, "Private Controversies," in the archives, State Library, Hartford.

This proves that Joseph Wadsworth was married to Elizabeth Talcott prior to April 18, 1689, when Sir Edmund Andros was arrested and imprisoned. For further discussion of this question, see p. 81, Vol. LXIV, of the New England Historical and Genealogical Register, where Mr. Frank Farnsworth Starr, to whom the editor is indebted for the information, examines the matter in detail.

Jonathan Wadsworth, second son of Joseph and Elizabeth (Talcott) Wadsworth, was baptized February 20, 1686-'7,* at Hartford, Connecticut.

Very little can be gleaned about his life, which was spent in Hartford.

He is called a "celebrated Indian fighter" by Horace A. Wadsworth in his history of the Wadsworth Family, but his authority for such a statement cannot be ascertained.

It is certain that he had nothing like the influence of his father in public affairs.

The only town office that he seems to have held was that of fence-viewer, and to this he was chosen, December 16, 1714,† December 17, 1717,‡ December 11, 1728,§ and December 21, 1731.||

He died July 23, 1739, and as the Rev. Daniel Wadsworth in his diary records, "in a very sudden manner in y^e woods."¶

Jonathan Wadsworth married (1) November 29, 1711, Hepzibah Marsh, baptized between June 6 and October 10, 1686, daughter of John and Sarah (Lyman) Marsh of Hartford, who is supposed to have died in 1724. He married (2) December 16, 1725, Abigail Camp, who survived him, and married January 27, 1741-'2, Jacob Kellogg of Hartford.

Samuel Wadsworth, eldest son and third child of Jonathan and Hepzibah (Marsh) Wadsworth, born October 25, 1716, was, at the age of 40, chosen one of the selectmen of Hartford,* Connecticut, and thereafter he took an influential part in the affairs of his native town.

He was also elected to this office in 1764,† 1765,‡ and 1771.§ His varied services on Committees of the town cannot here be minutely gone into.

One or two of the resolutions in which his name appears are of sufficient interest, however, to be quoted.

At a town meeting held December 25, 1769, it was "Voted and agreed that a good new strong Cart Bridge shall be built at the Charge of the Town over the Rivulet in the Town of Hartford as soon as the same can be conveniently effected, And that Cap^t. Samuel Wadsworth, M^r. Moses Butler and Cap^t. William Tiley be a Committee to take and have the whole Care and Management of building the said Bridge according to their best Discretion for the most Advantage of the Town." ||

Again at a town meeting held December 20, 1774, in the midst, no doubt, of intense excitement and enthusiasm, when "John Pitkin Esq^r." acted as moderator, the following significant resolutions were passed:

"Resolved 1, That wee have esteemed it our greatest civil Happinefs and Glory to have been born Subjects to the Crown, and Members of Society, under the most excellent Constitution of Great Britain, That Wee regard ourselves as one People with our mother Country, connected together by the strongest Ties of Affection Duty Interest and Religion, And that Wee Lament as the greatest Misfortune, which as Members of civil Society could befall us, the unhappy Disputes and Divisions that have of late Years, subsisted between us, And that we heartily wish Mutual Love, Harmony, Confidence and Tranquility may be reftored and established upon a solid and permanent Foundation, And that wee will join, our most vigorous and unremitting Endeavours to accomplish so great and so important a Purpose —

Resolved 2^d, That wee will as much as possible, endeavour to cultivate and cherish a Spirit, of Unanimity and Benevolence, and promote internal Tranquility, And wee will most heartily join with our Brethren of the other Colonies, and our fellow Townsmen, and Inhabitants of this Colony in every prudent Measure for the public Good —

Resolved 3^d, That wee heartily sympathize with our Brethren of Boston and the Massachusetts Bay, under their present unexampled Sufferings, And as they may be esteemed Sufferers in the common Cause Wee think them entitled to the Encouragement, Compassion and charitable Assistance of all the Friends of Liberty, and Foes of Oppression, both in England and America —

Resolved 4th, That Wee do gratefully acknowledge the important Services rendered to their Country by the late general Congress, held at Philadelphia, And that wee doe highly approve of the Measures by them concerted for the public Good of their Constituents, And that wee will use all prudent and Constitutional Endeavours, to carry those Measures into Execution, pursuant to the eleventh Article of the Association, entered into by said General Congress, And in Order thereto

Resolved 5th, That wee do appoint for our Committee of Cor-

rispondence & Observation the following Gentlemen (they or the major Part of them) Viz, Samuel Wadsworth, George Smith, Samuel Talcott, Benjamin Payne, Thomas Seymour, John Pitkin, George Pitkin, David Hills, Isaac Sheldon, Aaron Bull, Samuel Wylls, Timothy Cheeney, Richard Pitkin, Abijah Colton, Noah Webster, Ebenezer Wells and John Cook." *

When it became necessary in 1775, to make provision for the prisoners taken at Ticonderoga and Crown Point, who were sent into Connecticut, the General Assembly at its May session, passed a resolution "That Colo. Erastus Wolcott, Capt. Samuel Wadsworth, Capt. Ezekiel Williams, and Mr. Epaphras Bull, Henry Allyn, Esq^r, Colo. Fisher Gay, Colo. Mathew Talcott, Colo. James Wadsworth, Capt. Jonathan Welles, Ebenezer White, Esq^r, and Colo. Jonathan Humphry, be and they, or any three of them, are hereby appointed a committee, and are ordered and instructed, at the expence of this Colony, to take care of and provide for said officers and soldiers with their families at present, and see that they be treated with humanity, kindness and respect, according to their rank and station, and encourage, assist and advise said soldiers in procuring such profitable labour and business as they may be capable of." †

It is interesting to note that Capt. Samuel Wadsworth was chosen, December 27, 1785, on a committee to lay out a strip of land at the front of the Center Church burying ground that it might be sold "for the Erecting of Stores." ‡

Dr. Russell, in his delightful reminiscences, entitled "Up-Neck in 1825," describes his great-grandfather, Samuel Wadsworth, as residing "near the north corner of the present Asylum Street," and as being "a farmer, sea-captain," and for some time also a "tavern-keeper" at his residence.

Gurdon Wadsworth,* eldest son and child of Samuel and Melicent (Cook) Wadsworth, was born June 27, 1748, in Hartford, Connecticut. He was a farmer and lived on the east side of Windsor avenue, below the State Arsenal, while his brother Nathan lived a little beyond it, and his brother George not far from the boundary line between Hartford and Windsor; all three having their homes on the same side of the street.

In 1777 he was a conductor of teams for transporting supplies with eleven teamsters from Connecticut to the Continental army, and also in the years 1778-1781.†

Twice he was chosen surveyor of highways, in 1784 and 1790,‡ and December 18, 1800, he was elected constable.§

DR. GURDON W. RUSSELL AT "CEDARCROFT," NEWINGTON, CONN.

Gurdon Wadsworth Russell, eldest child of John and Martha (Wadsworth) Russell, was born April 10, 1815, in Hartford, Connecticut, and died there February 3, 1909. An appreciative sketch of this notable man, the compiler of this genealogy, by the Rev. Samuel Hart, D.D., is prefixed to this work.

His long, untiring services in many causes that make for righteousness are there recited. He was keenly interested not only in the field of his own profession, that of medicine, but also in other departments of learning, and especially in horticulture, delighting in the study and the growing of various kinds of fruits at "Cedarcroft," his country place on Cedar Mountain, Newington. He was never happier than when out there, among its rocks and trees, its fruits and flowers, and the view over the valley was a source of constant delight to him.

He had a deep affection for his native place, investigated phases of its history, and wrote of them; and during the latter years of his life had been gathering materials for this family history.

One who knew Dr. Russell can never forget the charm and quiet humor of his conversation. On a scrap of paper among his genealogical manuscripts was found a single sentence in his handwriting which is so applicable to his own character that it is here given:

"He was frank, considerate, and had that factor of greatness which enables a man to express his ideas without a superfluity of words."

Dr. Russell married (1) September 12, 1838, Sarah

Elizabeth Tuttle, born May 11, 1816, daughter of Samuel and Elizabeth (Hotchkiss) Tuttle of Hartford, who died July 16, 1871.

He married (2) November 27, 1883, Mary Isabella Beresford, born November 17, 1842, daughter of Dr. Samuel Barwick and Mary (Anderson) Beresford of Hartford.

There were no children by this marriage.

WILLIAM TUTTLE, THE EMIGRANT

William Tuttle, the Emigrant, came in the ship "Planter," arriving at Boston, Massachusetts, in July, 1635.

He was at first styled husbandman, and later merchant, and no doubt combined both occupations.

In the spring of 1639, he removed to New Haven, Connecticut, where he died in May or June, 1673. He held various town offices and served as constable for the year beginning in March, 1666. His widow Elizabeth, whose surname is unknown, died December 30, 1684, aged 72 years.* They had 12 children.

Joseph Tuttle, fifth son and sixth child of William and Elizabeth Tuttle, was baptized in New Haven, November 22, 1640, and married May 2, 1667, Hannah Munson, baptized June 11, 1648, the youngest daughter of Captain Thomas Munson, one of the foremost men of New Haven.

In 1685 he was chosen constable, but declined the office on account of his lameness. He died in September, 1690.

His widow Hannah married (2) August 21, 1694, Nathan Bradley of Guilford, Connecticut, and died there November 30, 1695.

There were 9 children by the first marriage.

NOTE. This outline of the Tuttle family, with the exception of the later generations, is mainly taken from "The Descendants of William and Elizabeth Tuttle," by George Frederick Tuttle.

* Her tombstone gives the date of her death as Dec. 31, 1684, and her age as 76.

Joseph Tuttle, first child of Joseph and Hannah (Munson) Tuttle, was born March 18, 1668, and married in Milford, Connecticut, November 10, 1691, Elizabeth Sanford, born in September, 1671, daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth (Paine) Sanford. He was a cordwainer or shoemaker and lived in East Haven, Connecticut, where he was chosen a deputy to the General Court or Assembly, for the May and August sessions of 1710. It is not known when either he or his wife died, though he may have been living in March, 1734, when there is mention of a "highway that Leadeth from Joseph Tuttle to the Pond Rock."

They had at least 5 children.

Joseph Tuttle, first child of Joseph and Elizabeth (Sanford) Tuttle, was born November 10, 1692, and married (1) Mercy Thompson, born February 21, 1696, daughter of John 3d and Mercy (Mansfield) Thompson. He was captain of the train band in East Haven, selectman for several terms, a large property owner and a man of weight in the community. He also had a house in Derby, Connecticut, and bought lands in 1748 and 1753 in Litchfield County. He owned 8 negroes, and in his will mentions besides his house, a shop and negro rooms at East Haven.

His wife Mercy died September 6, 1743, and he married (2) the widow Sarah Washburn, who survived him. He died January 16, 1761. There were 10 children, 7 by the first and 3 by the second marriage.

Samuel Tuttle, the seventh and last child of Joseph and Mercy (Thompson) Tuttle, was born in 1741, and resided on property in East Haven that he inherited from his father. The first meeting of the Episcopal Society of East Haven was held in his house March 31, 1788, and he and James Pardee were the first wardens of the church established there. In the British raid on New Haven in July, 1779, he was captured and kept a prisoner in New York for about six months.

He married September 6, 1761, Bethia Miles, who died April 20, 1824, aged 82. He died May 20, 1817.

There were 12 children.

Samuel Tuttle, fourth son and seventh child of Samuel and Bethia (Miles) Tuttle, was born June 23, 1773, and married January 19, 1800, Elizabeth Hotchkiss, born May 2, 1779, daughter of Isaac and Lydia (Fields) Hotchkiss of East Haven, who died August 2, 1831. He died July 5, 1850.

have settled there on leaving Ireland after the battle of the Boyne, 1 July, 1690.

THE BERESFORD LINE OF MARY ISABELLA BERESFORD, THE SECOND WIFE OF DR.
GURDON WADSWORTH RUSSELL

Beresford

I

MICHAEL BERESFORD

The Beresfords were early a family of distinction in England. The branch of the family here traced went to Ireland, but after the rout of James the Second at the famous battle of the Boyne, July 1, 1690, the tradition is that Michael Beresford left Ireland and went to England, where he settled in Kent; if so, he must have been a very old man.

It may be conjectured that he was a man of wealth and a zealous churchman.

Further data are lacking, except that he was married, and had the following CHILDREN:
