

To Whom it may Concern:

The black community wants accountability Accountability is important to keep things from getting out of control. And yes, there are policemen who should not be policemen. Also, counselling should be available to the officers considering what they are put through every day on the job.

The black community should also be counseled on how to act when dealing with an officer trying to do his or her job. Also, the black community should be held accountable since the majority of the crime in our state is being done by them. Correct me if I am wrong, the faces I see in the paper are black. The leaders in the community should be working with the police to help clean up the gangs, drugs ect.
