Good Afternoon:

I am the spouse of an LEO who is employed by the City of Hartford.

I am ashamed of those of you in politics who support the police accountability act.

My husband goes to work every day and has also been ordered into work when not scheduled, effectively leaving his family and putting his life On the line.

He is not respected or supported by the civilians he serves on a daily basis and now he and his coworkers are not respected or supported by you either.

I'm sure there are none or at the least very few of you who have ever ran toward gun fire, domestic violence situations or have gone into a home on a warrant to find young children surrounded by illegal guns and drugs. Only to have those law breaking adults throw powder fentanyl into the air with no regard that there were young children there to be affected. I'm also sure you have never had to apprehend a 250 pound me who is under the influence of PCP and is resisting arrest.

With this police accountability act, LEO's will now have to second guess their actions during life or death situations, as to not be found guilty of excessive use of force and face a real possibility of losing their homes and children's college tuitions that they risk their lives for everyday to pay for.

I urge you to reconsider the law. I believe if this law passes you will lose many "good" cops who truly go to work every day to make a difference.

Sincerely
Amy Corvino
