

In cases of riots, damage to personal property, looting and threats to the public and general chaos created by rioters, police should not be neutered by politicians.

Police have to stop looters, rioters and other thugs from harming people and destroying property by any means necessary.