

The vast majority of our Police are honest, conscientious professionals who deserve our support. The actions of a very few bad cops should not mandate additional regulations on the good cops. I again urge you to OPPOSE additional regulations ('accountability') on the Police. No matter your race, if you do not resist arrest and cooperate with the officer you may have legal problems but you will still be alive. The cases that garnered the national attention have a common thread - the suspect was resisting arrest! That's not the cop's fault. Public safety is suffering. Frank Podgwaite, North Haven
