

All police officers state and local should be given an instruction manual of rules to follow. When officer gives perpetrators a command and not followed jail time should be served whether guilty or not.