

I can't believe any leader that is actually concerned with the public's safety is seriously considering implementing the foolish notion of defunding police. Just because some people are protesting doesn't make it a good idea. The rest of us want the police doing their jobs of keeping the peace. Spineless politicians who think mob rule is fine should just resign. We need leadership that stands for law and order. Defunding police won't solve anything and will lead to more crimes. Just look at NYC.
