

The U.S. Constitution affords us the right to assemble, peacefully, right to free speech, and property rights. The self-proclaimed marxist protestors are trying to take that away from us under the guise of police abuse. We are already seeing the horrific effects of their destructive will. Though there are few incidents of bad police, why do we want to downsize their forces? This, I believe, will only lead to more crimes and deterioration of our society. I believe we need to fix police unions to be able to cull out the bad apples. Our police are so badly needed every day to protect life and property. Without them we do not have law and order. Without that we live in an anarchy!

Suzanne Marinan
Tolland, CT