

The religious exemption should not be eliminated. Even those who are 100% in favor of mandatory vaccinations for all should recognize how wrong it is to put government above religion.