

Governor's Council on Women and Girls – Connecticut

Governor's Council on Women and Girls. Upon taking office in January 2019, one of Governor Lamont's first actions was to form the Governor's Council on Women and Girls – a group tasked with providing a coordinated state response to issues that impact the lives of women, girls, their families, and the State of Connecticut.

Chaired by Lt. Governor Susan Bysiewicz, the council is housed within the Office of the Governor, emphasizing the centrality of its work to the overall goals of the administration. Office of Policy and Management Secretary Melissa McCaw serves as the council's vice chair.

Governor's Council on Women and Girls: Subcommittee on Health and Safety

The purpose of this subcommittee is to identify health and safety issues that particularly impact women and girls and develop initiatives that support healthy lifestyles and offer physical, mental and emotional protection for women and girls affected by such matters.

- CTCARES for Frontline Workers helps some types of essential workers pay for child care. It offers direct payments to their child care providers, so frontline workers can continue to work. Learn about CTCARES for Frontline Workers.
- CTCARES for Child Care offers financial help to child care providers who are willing to provide care for the children of essential workers. It benefits both groups — providers get additional funding, and essential workers get the child care they need to work. Learn about CTCARES for Child Care.
- CTCARES for Family Child Care offers licensed family child care providers access to supports during COVID-19. Our goal is to help your program succeed so you can continue to do your vital work. Learn about CTCARES for Family Child Care.
- CTCARES for Hospital Workers (also called Project 26) offers access to emergency child care for hospital workers and EMTs. Programs are set up across the state and close to Connecticut's hospitals. Learn about CTCARES for Hospital Workers.
