Each year, the Connecticut Department of Social Services (DSS) serves about 1 million residents of all ages, across 169 cities and towns. Guided by our shared belief in human potential, DSS envisions a Connecticut where all have the opportunity to be healthy, secure, and thriving. Below is a glance at data about the people served by DSS from 2011 to the current CALENDAR year. By clicking on the "Year" filter, you will see the people served in the County and Town for the chosen year. Demographic data will also be presented for the selected year. *To support data protection and privacy, data values less than 11 will not be presented. At the program and type of assistance level, people are counted more than once if they are receiving multiple services. Please see the DSS Dashboard Guide for more details on data methodology and definitions.
