

Dear CT Legislators,

Any vaccine requirements that result in an ultimatum for a worker or any person, should not be continued. Forcing people to get vaccines/boosters or lose a job or risk their education is not a choice, but an ultimatum and coercion. Please recognize that there are more and more highly credentialed doctors such as Dr. Harvey Risch, epidemiologist, of Yale School of Public Health and on Governor Lamont's Covid reopening committee and Dr. Robert Malone, scientist/physician that helped develop the mRNA vaccine technology, that are speaking out against the mandates of the vaccine/booster. There are still too many questions on long-term effects to mandate this for anybody. In addition, the FDA approved Comirnaty is still not available in the U.S. Mandating a medical intervention that is an Emergency Use Authorization, that nobody has any liability for, is unethical. Please do not extend the vaccine/booster mandates and please advocate for our young adults attending Connecticut colleges and universities and urge colleges and universities to stop their vaccine mandates.

Sincerely,

Cheryl Lage

Resident, Hebron, CT