

Given today's situation, it is no longer necessary to grant Governor Lamont emergency powers. The state legislators can revisit this issue if and when there is a statewide emergency in CT in the future.

Michael Errichetti

Sent from my iPhone