

February 6, 2022

Dear Sirs:

I am a long-time resident of Connecticut and respectfully request that the Governor's executive orders not be renewed. While they may have been needed when the pandemic initially began and through the recent variants, our residents now know how to manage life during this time. We do not need any further governance on living with this virus. We now need to use common sense, get the vaccine/booster, stay home when you're sick, etc. Covid is here to stay, there will be more variants, but we cannot support an unending emergency state of life, we just need to learn to live with this and to get life back to normal.

I am sure our Governor is being pressured by neighboring States, but Connecticut is different, it may be small, but we have made it through the worse days and now we must be ready to get back to normal.

Sincerely,

Wynn McDaniel
